Powers Files Guilty Plea In Lengthy Questioning As Russian Trial Begins

Sees Self As Spy; Denies Knowing Of Equipment

MOSCOW (AP) — In a Soviet court today, Francis Gary Powers pictured himself as a $30,000-a-year spy for the United States—but one who knew little if anything about the equipment he was carrying. He said a superior officer had assured him it was "absolutely safe to fly over the Soviet Union."

With his grief-torn wife and parents looking on, the U2 pilot stood in the prisoner's dock before the military section of the Soviet Supreme Court and pleaded guilty to espionage.

Television, motion picture and still cameras ground away as the defendant—first American ever to stand trial on capital charges in the Soviet Union—answered hour after hour questions. The trial was in the Hall of Columns, site of the famous purge trials of the 30s and the place where both Lenin and Stalin lay in state after death.

But much more than the young pilot—today was his 31st birthday—was on trial. The Soviet Union had made no secret of its hope to put United States policy and United States acts in the dock.

Under questioning by the Soviet prosecutor, following 117 days in Soviet captivity, Powers insisted again and again that he had no knowledge of the special photographic and recording apparatus aboard his jet. But he admitted he assumed the U2 was on a spy mission.

He said he was making $2,500 a month in his job under a secret contract.

He denied knowing what U. S. agency was in charge of the Lockheed U2 which penetrated 1,200 miles into the Soviet Union before it was downed.

"I think you did not doubt it was a spy flight," said prosecutor Roman A. Rudenko in the course of four hours of questioning at the trial's morning session.

"No, I don't think I doubted it," Powers responded.

The defendant wore a civilian suit and appeared well except for a red mark on his face.

His voice was firm but grew tired toward the end of the four-hour morning session.

Listening from a box in the rear of the courtroom were his wife and parents. A Russian nurse was with them as well as their own doctors from home. Powers, diagonally across the huge room and blinded by television lights, probably could not see them.

The family seldom took their eyes from the witness stand.

Powers asserted he didn't know whether his flight was under military auspices. He said a colonel named Shelton was in charge of the outfit but that the rest of the group were civilians.

He testified Shelton had told him it was safe to fly over the Soviet Union—an apparent reference to the fact that similar planes had made flights over a period of about four years.

At the start of the trial a 4,000-word indictment drawn up by Soviet prosecutors, and previously made public, was read.

Asked then how he pleaded, Powers said:

"Yes, I plead guilty."

Powers' voice was high-pitched but calm, and he seemed in full control of himself.

The flier's wife, Barbara, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., sat in a special box at the rear of the huge hall and heard him enter the plea which could—but probably won't—bring him a death sentence.

It was the first time any American had ever been tried on spy charges in a Soviet court, and the Soviet government announced it would also convict the whole foreign policy of the United States.

Powers appeared to be in good health and showed no signs of nervousness. He wore a single-breasted navy blue suit and a dark red necktie. His hair was crewcut and he carried into the prisoner's box a light blue cardboard folder which apparently contained material for his defense. There was a red mark on his left jaw just under the ear, possibly the after-effect of an injury sustained when he parachuted May 1 from his high-flying jet 1,200 miles inside Soviet territory.

At the outset of the hearing before three military judges Powers answered routine, factual questions about his birthplace and birth date—he is 31 today—his

In New Defiance Of U.N.

Congo Premier Proclaims Martial Law For 6 Months

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—In a new defiance of the U.N. command in the Congo, Premier Patrice Lumumba has proclaimed martial law for six months.

It was not clear what effect the volatile premier's latest maneuver would have. He proclaimed a state of emergency last week, and Tuesday armed Congolese troops and police searched living quarters of Belgians and U.N. personnel, arrested some Belgians and detained some U.N. personnel briefly.

However, U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and the U.N. command showed no sign of bowing to Lumumba's demand that the U.N. forces be used to establish his government's authority over dissident Katanga province and other sections of the sprawling nation that show signs of wanting local autonomy.

Along with his proclamation of martial law, the Congo premier angrily accused the U.N. forces of failing to carry out their duties and making martial law necessary to meet the crisis in his chaotic country. He demanded the immediate withdrawal from the Congo of the Swedish contingent of the U.N. force whose loyalty to Hammarskjold's orders is unquestioned.

Hammarskjold, who fled back to New York Tuesday night to ask the Security Council how the U.N. Congo command should meet Lumumba's growing hostility, refused to comment on the martial law declaration. The council is expected to meet Thursday on the Congo situation.

Hammarskjold was handed a communication from Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov voicing disagreement with the secretary-general's interpretation of U.N. neutrality toward the dispute between Lumumba and Katanga Premier Moise Tshombe. The Soviets have made plain they think the U.N. force should carry out Lumumba's wishes and subdue the rebellious provincial government.

The Belgian radio reported that a 20-mile-long column of native men, women and children, was fleeing from Luluabourg, capital of Kasai province, where the rival Lulua and Baluba tribes are locked in bloody warfare. The broadcast said a special investigating committee of the central Congo government had reported that arrival of U.N. troops in the province had failed to end the tribal blood bath.

Propaganda Aim Of Reds, U.S. Claims

Hopes Powers Will Get Off With Less Than Major Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expected the Soviets to try to wring the last ounce of propaganda they can from a showpiece trial of Francis Gary Powers, starting today.

Because of this, they held hopes that the American U2 pilot would get off with much less than the maximum penalty under Soviet law—death by shooting.

They figured Powers might even receive the minimum jail term of seven years. There was a possibility that Premier Nikita Krushchev, in a gesture to show magnanimity, would commute a stiff sentence.

But Washington informants also foresaw the possibility that Krushchev, in his new get-tough cold war policy, would have Powers executed to "teach a lesson" to the world.

Depending on the outcome of the trial, U.S. authorities were preparing to seek post-trial negotiations with the Soviets for Powers' return.

There seemed to be little advance doubt that the court would convict the flier.

It was assumed, too, that the Kremlin had already decided on the sentence.

Moscow has already gone to great lengths to make the most of the downing of Powers' high-flying U2 reconnaissance plane deep inside Soviet territory on May 1.

Khrushchev cited Powers' flight in calling off President Eisenhower's visit to the Soviet Union and upsetting the Paris summit conference last May 16.

The advance buildup, plus Soviet refusal to let any American see Powers before the trial, has convinced U.S. officials that Khrushchev aims to squeeze out every bit of propaganda gain in a public show attended by invited observers from around the world.

Contracts Let By Hancock School Board

Insurance Placed For Pupils And Bus Coverage Next Term

Contracts were awarded for pupil and school bus insurance and for coal and milk supplies at a meeting of the Hancock County Board of Education Tuesday night in New Cumberland.

The board also employed 8 teachers for the term beginning Sept. 6 and formally adopted the budget for 1960-61 and levy rates.

Action on the budget for 1960-61 followed approval of the West Virginia Board of School Finance. The budget totals $2,608,702 — an increase of $201,175 over appropriations for 1959.

Rates of the levy, computed on the number of cents for each $100 in valuation of each class of property, are:

Class I — 47.15, raising $20,126; Class II — 94.3, $190,438; Class III, 188.6, $184,837, and Class IV—188.6, $1,346,586.

The Pilot Insurance Co., through the E. G. Jackson Agency of Chester, was the successful bidder for pupil insurance, at $1.75 per pupil in all grades. Pilot Insurance also had the contract last term.

Royal Insurance Co., with John D. Herron of New Cumberland the agent, bid $2 for coverage of pupils in the first eight grades and $2.50 for policies on high school pupils.

Council Kills Drain Project At Wellsville

Legislation Would Have Cut Spouts To Sanitary Sewers

An ordinance which would have required homeowners to disconnect all downspouts and surface water drains from sanitary sewers was rejected by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

Wellsville To Submit Levy For Playgrounds

A resolution seeking to submit a half-mill levy for operation of city owned playgrounds was passed under suspension of rules by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

The revenue will not be used for operation of parks. Funds will be earmarked for acquisition of property and salaries, among other things.

The ordinance was killed by unanimous vote after a lengthy discussion which took up the major portion of the 3-hour-15-minute session.

Legislation requiring that downspouts be disconnected was ordered last week after a tie vote broken by Mrs. Mary Rahter, president.

Six Council members last night voted against the proposal, including Robert Taggart, Clarence Cartwright, Paul Nelson, Don Miller, Wilmer Ralston and William Strobel. Councilman Aguin Bowl-

Despite Soviet Rebuff

U.S. Will Push New Plan To Slash Nuclear Stocks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States will push its latest proposal to slash stocks of nuclear weapons in world arsenais despite an initial Soviet rebuff.

This was the word from high American sources today as the 82-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission continued debate on how to get the deadlocked disarmament negotiations between the West and the Communists going again.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge unveiled the U.S. proposals at the commission's opening session Tuesday. He said the United States was prepared to set aside 30,000 kilograms — 33 tons — of U-235 for peaceful purposes if the Soviet Union would do likewise.

This was the first time the United States had come up with a definite figure. Lodge said this amount could generate an explosive force 1,000 times greater than all the bombs dropped by all warring powers during World War II.

U. S. informants said Soviet agreement would result in a "Major reduction of all nuclear weapons stocks." The transfer would be contingent on U. S.-Soviet production on a total cutoff of all production of fissionable materials.

If the Soviet Union is not prepared to join in such a plan, Lodge went on, the United States is ready to join the Soviet Union in halting by successive steps production of fissionable materials for weapon use.

"We are prepared," he said, "to shut down, one by one, under international inspection, our major plants producing enriched uranium and plutonium, if the Soviet Union will shut down equivalent facilities. We are prepared to do this now—without delay."

Vasily V. Kuznetsov, the Soviet deputy foreign minister, said the U. S. plan was just a rehash of old proposals and not worthy of serious consideration. He repeated the perennial Soviet demand for an unconditional ban—without enforcement safeguards — on nuclear weapons and production of fissionable materials.

U. S. sources said this could not be taken as a "considered reply" to the American plan.

2 At Minerva Held In Attack Robbery Case

LISBON — Minerva police were expected to file unarmed robbery charges against a Minerva man and his West Virginia companion who was taken into custody Tuesday after an areawide manhunt by police and sheriff's deputies.

Garland Blaine Seabolt, 27, of Kanawha County, W. Va., and Wallace Laverne Daniels, 25, of Minerva were being questioned about the robbery and beating of Willis Gordon, 27, of Malvern in a parking lot at Minerva early yesterday.

A nine-hour search for Seabolt was conducted by Columbiana County and Carroll County sheriff's deputies, Minerva police, State Highway Patrolmen and a private plane piloted by a Carroll County man. He was finally located by a Civil Defense aide and surrendered without resistance.

Gordon, who was treated at Alliance City Hospital, was robbed of 3 checks totaling $354 along with $60 in cash.

Police Chief William Hawk of Malvern questioned Daniels when he went to the hospital with Gordon and it appeared Daniels was unhurt in a reported fight.

Canton police are also questioning Seabolt about a robbery there, officers at Minerva reported.

Steubenville Trio Nabbed In Game Raids

STEUBENVILLE — Hearings were held today for two of three men nabbed in "snafued" raids on 30 suspected gambling places Tuesday, after which police protested that they were hampered by "Paul Revere."

The raids resulted from a suspended police officer's charge on a radio broadcast that the city was "wide open" and the mayor added to the furore with the comment that he was surprised by the accusations.

Police armed with fire department axes and search-and-seizure warrants swooped down on eight of the joints, pin-pointed by William Consol, suspended police captain.

The three were charged with gambling in three of the establishments entered.

They were Sam Lombard, 37, arrested at the Americana Club; Thomas Mazik, 21 at Don's Lounge and Frank Florio, 22, at Comet Cigar.

Two pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court this morning and the third is due this afternoon.

The cases against Lombard and Florio were continued until Friday while Mazik was expected to appear in court this afternoon to enter a plea. They had been releasd on $300 bonds.

Although four city trucks had been pressed into duty, only sket-

Judge Tobin To Head 1960 Dystrophy Drive

Judge Louis Tobin of St. Clair Ave. has accepted the chairmanship of the Columbiana County Muscular Dystrophy drive for the second year, officials of the Muscular Dystrophy Association announced.

Probate Judge Tobin was presented a special award Tuesday at Lisbon for his efforts on behalf of MD by Russell Catanese of Cleveland, executive secretary for the association. The drive will be held Nov. 20.

Support of the campaign was urged by Judge Tobin, who said anyone wishing to volunteer may make arrangements with him at the Courthouse at Lisbon.

Quantity Of Dynamite Stolen At Road Project

LISBON — The Miller Excavating Co. reported to the sheriff's office this morning a quantity of dynamite and some blasting caps were stolen from the Route 7 project north of Williamsport.

Officials of the firm said they had not used any of the explosive since last Wednesday but about 25 pounds in 2-pound sticks was discovered missing this morning, along with the caps. The explosive was stored in a shack in a nearby strip mine. A bar was used to break into the shed.

GOP At Wellsville Sets Kick-Off Event Sept. 8

A kick-off dinner for the 1960 Republican campaign in Columbiana County will be held by the Wellsville Republican Club Sept. 8 at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church at Wellsville, Atty. James McSweeney, city chairman, announced today.

Invitations have been sent to C. William O'Neil and Judge Earl Hoover, candidates for the state Supreme Court, and to James A. Rhodes, state auditor, seeking re-election, McSweeney said.

A speaker prominent in state politics is being sought through the Ohio Republican State Committee. Some 250 are expected to attend.

300 Expected At Airing Of Chief's Resignation

Nearly 300 Industry residents have signed 9 petitions pledging attendance at a special general business meeting of Borough Council tonight at 8 in the fire hall to ask why Police Chief E. J. Hineman resigned Aug. 3.

A sponsor of the protest said that others would have signed but would not have been able to attend. Hineman is said to have resigned because of criticisms by Burgess Harry H. Davis and as a result of "politics."

Hineman, 73, chief for 6 years, had notified Council last January, when the township became a borough, that he wanted to resign but would stay on until a successor was named.

Merical May Remain In Jail Without Bond

Thomas Merical,,30, of Beaver County, who surrendered at East Liverpool Monday afternoon to face a criminal assault charge, may remain in the Beaver County Jail, without bond being set, until action by the Grand Jury which convenes Aug. 29.

His attorney, John D. Ray of Beaver, said he has not asked the Beaver County Courts to set bond.

Merical eluded tri-state police for nearly five days until he gave himself up Monday afternoon to Beaver County authorities at the police station here. He fled last Wednesday when police went to his home to arrest him on a charge of criminal assault of his 16-year-old stepdaughter, filed by his wife.

Ike Raps Red Contention U.S. On Trial With Pilot

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower indignantly rejected today Russia's contention that the United States is on trial along with U2 pilot Francis G. Powers. He called it a distortion of the facts.

The President told a news conference that evidence by Powers so far does not indicate he has been brainwashed.

Eisenhower protested against Russia's refusal to let any U.S. Embassy official or other American government representative see the flier whose reconnaissance plane went down in central Russia May 1.

Under international usage and custom, Eisenhower told a news conference, a foreigner accused of crime is accorded the right to see a representative of his own government, but the Russians denied Powers that right.

He said in discussing the case at the very outset of his conference that he did not wish to comment in detail on the trial or the charges against Powers, because that might not be helpful to the flier.

President Sees Lots Of Action In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today there is no reason why there shouldn't be a lot of action out of Congress in its pre-election session.

Eisenhower told a news conference that Congress once had passed 436 bills in two weeks.

Congress can do what needs to be done, the President said firmly.

In response to a question, he said he had not heard the expression that the Democratic-dominated national legislature is a "do little Congress."

But Eisenhower said he doesn't see any reason why there shouldn't be some action on the legislative program he first laid down

LISBON — Minerva police were expected to file unarmed robbery charges against a Minerva man and his West Virginia companion who was taken into custody Tuesday after an areawide manhunt by police and sheriff's deputies.

Garland Blaine Seabolt, 27, of Kanawha County, W. Va., and Wallace Laverne Daniels, 25, of Minerva were being questioned about the robbery and beating of Willis Gordon, 27, of Malvern in a parking lot at Minerva early yesterday.

A nine-hour search for Seabolt was conducted by Columbiana County and Carroll County sheriff's deputies, Minerva police, State Highway Patrolmen and a private plane piloted by a Carroll County man. He was finally located by a Civil Defense aide and surrendered without resistance.

Gordon, who was treated at Alliance City Hospital, was robbed of 3 checks totaling $354 along with $60 in cash.

Police Chief William Hawk of Malvern questioned Daniels when he went to the hospital with Gordon and it appeared Daniels was unhurt in a reported fight.

Canton police are also questioning Seabolt about a robbery there, officers at Minerva reported.

Steubenville Trio Nabbed In Game Raids

STEUBENVILLE — Hearings were held today for two of three men nabbed in "snafued" raids on 30 suspected gambling places Tuesday, after which police protested that they were hampered by "Paul Revere."

The raids resulted from a suspended police officer's charge on a radio broadcast that the city was "wide open" and the mayor added to the furore with the comment that he was surprised by the accusations.

Police armed with fire department axes and search-and-seizure warrants swooped down on eight of the joints, pin-pointed by William Consol, suspended police captain.

The three were charged with gambling in three of the establishments entered.

They were Sam Lombard, 37, arrested at the Americana Club; Thomas Mazik, 21 at Don's Lounge and Frank Florio, 22, at Comet Cigar.

Two pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court this morning and the third is due this afternoon.

The cases against Lombard and Florio were continued until Friday while Mazik was expected to appear in court this afternoon to enter a plea. They had been releasd on $300 bonds.

Although four city trucks had been pressed into duty, only sket-

Quantity Of Dynamite Stolen At Road Project

LISBON — The Miller Excavating Co. reported to the sheriff's office this morning a quantity of dynamite and some blasting caps were stolen from the Route 7 project north of Williamsport.

Officials of the firm said they had not used any of the explosive since last Wednesday but about 25 pounds in 2-pound sticks was discovered missing this morning, along with the caps. The explosive was stored in a shack in a nearby strip mine. A bar was used to break into the shed.

Judge Tobin To Head 1960 Dystrophy Drive

Judge Louis Tobin of St. Clair Ave. has accepted the chairmanship of the Columbiana County Muscular Dystrophy drive for the second year, officials of the Muscular Dystrophy Association announced.

Probate Judge Tobin was presented a special award Tuesday at Lisbon for his efforts on behalf of MD by Russell Catanese of Cleveland, executive secretary for the association. The drive will be held Nov. 20.

Support of the campaign was urged by Judge Tobin, who said anyone wishing to volunteer may make arrangements with him at the Courthouse at Lisbon.

GOP At Wellsville Sets Kick-Off Event Sept. 8

A kick-off dinner for the 1960 Republican campaign in Columbiana County will be held by the Wellsville Republican Club Sept. 8 at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church at Wellsville. Atty. James McSweeney, city chairman, announced today.

Invitations have been sent to C. William O'Neil and Judge Earl Hoover, candidates for the state Supreme Court, and to James A. Rhodes, state auditor, seeking re-election, McSweeney said.

A speaker prominent in state politics is being sought through the Ohio Republican State Committee. Some 250 are expected to attend.

300 Expected At Airing Of Chief's Resignation

Nearly 300 Industry residents have signed 9 petitions pledging attendance at a special general business meeting of Borough Council tonight at 8 in the fire hall to ask why Police Chief E. J. Hineman resigned Aug. 3.

A sponsor of the protest said that others would have signed but would not have been able to attend. Hineman is said to have resigned because of criticisms by Burgess Harry H. Davis and as a result of "politics."

Hineman, 73, chief for 6 years, had notified Council last January, when the township became a borough, that he wanted to resign but would stay on until a successor was named.

Merical May Remain In Jail Without Bond

Thomas Merical, 30, of Beaver County, who surrendered at East Liverpool Monday afternoon to face a criminal assault charge, may remain in the Beaver County Jail, without bond being set, until action by the Grand Jury which convenes Aug. 29.

His attorney, John D. Ray of Beaver, said he has not asked the Beaver County Courts to set bond.

Merical eluded tri-state police for nearly five days until he gave himself up Monday afternoon to Beaver County authorities at the police station here. He fled last Wednesday when police went to his home to arrest him on a charge of criminal assault of his 16-year-old stepdaughter, filed by his wife.

Brands It Distortion Of Facts

Ike Raps Red Contention U.S. On Trial With Pilot

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower indignantly rejected today Russia's contention that the United States is on trial along with U2 pilot Francis G. Powers. He called it a distortion of the facts.

The President told a news conference that evidence by Powers so far does not indicate he has been brainwashed.

Eisenhower protested against Russia's refusal to let any U.S. Embassy official or other American government representative see the flier whose reconnaissance plane went down in central Russia May 1.

Under international usage and custom, Eisenhower told a news conference, a foreigner accused of crime is accorded the right to see a representative of his own government, but the Russians denied Powers that right.

He said in discussing the case at the very outset of his conference that he did not wish to comment in detail on the trial or the charges against Powers, because that might not be helpful to the flier.

President Sees Lots Of Action In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower declared today there is no reason why there shouldn't be a lot of action out of Congress in its pre-election session.

Eisenhower told a news conference that Congress once had passed 436 bills in two weeks.

Congress can do what needs to be done, the President said firmly.

In response to a question, he said he had not heard the expression that the Democratic-dominated national legislature is a "do little Congress."

But Eisenhower said he doesn't see any reason why there shouldn't be some action on the legislative program he first laid down ing then changed his vote to "no" to make it unanimous.

Council Kills Drain Project

Council also rejected by a 5-2 vote a suggestion that the sanitary sewer problem be alleviated by having the city install backwater checks for homeowners financially unable to do so, and have others with fatter pocketbooks bear the cost of installing backwater traps in their own homes.

The suggestion was favored by Ralston and Strobel and turned down by the five others.

During the lengthy discussion following the reading of the proposed downspout ordinance, Council talked over difficulties which might have been created by its passage and whether or not it would have alleviated the sanitary sewer overflow problem, particularly in the West End.

George Lewis, a city plumber, cautioned Council from the audience to "consider the situation seriously," asserting it would cost some homeowners hundreds of dollars to make the downspout changes.

He also suggested that in hardship cases, Council could permit the downspouts to remain connected but charge the individual a sewage rental fee.

Lewis declared that the problem goes back to a previous Council, which decided to build a less expensive sewage disposal system but which he said is too small for the needs of the city.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson, in reply to a question, told Council that storm sewers emptying into the sanitary sewers are kept clean below the drains and some sewers have been cleaned.

Council also voiced opinion that a 60-day time limit in the downspout ordinance did not give homeowners enough time to disconnect the drains. Robinson suggested that the time element could be overcome by having homeowners write a bona fide letter of intent to make the change and they would be given additional time if they requested it in the letter.

Mrs. Rahter questioned if the sewage plant is adequate under normal conditions and was told that the plant is adequate but is overloaded during the peak of a storm.

In answer to a comment by Lewis, the president also explained that she had served on the previous Council which had passed legislation for the sewage plant and Council had decided to build the cheaper structure to save taxpayers any additional cost.

Council authorized construction of the present sewage disposal plant instead of another that would have cost about $990,000.

After the ordinance and the backwater check plan were rejected, Council ended the discussion by turning the problem over to the sewage and ordinance committees.

In discussing the second plan of having homeowners install backwater checks, depending on their financial ability, Robinson declared that he would not take the responsibility of serving as a one-man board to rule on who should install their own or otherwise.

last January and, he said, had repeatedly requested in several messages.

In a wide-ranging discussion of national and international affairs, the President rejected vigorously any suggestion that the United States has blundered in its dealings with Cuba.

He said the Russians cannot put the United States on trial along with U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers. If the Russians want to try him as the President who directed the flight, that's all right with him, Eisenhower added.

Powers

family background and his education.

Then came the reading of the long indictment and then, with surprising rapidity, the plea.

MORE

"Have you heard and understood the charges against you?" asked the presiding judge, Lt. Gen. Viktor V. Borisoglebsky.

"Yes," Powers replied after rising in the prisoner's box.

"Do you acknowledge that you are guilty?" the judge continued from his high-backed chair beneath the hammer and sickle emblem of the Soviet Union.

"Yes, I plead guilty."

"Be seated," said the judge.

There was a stir throughout the audience and the judge declared a recess for 20 minutes.

The plea of guilty came as no surprise, for the indictment previously published — said Powers had pleaded guilty to flying over Soviet territory, turning on and off special equipment aboard his plane, and believed this "was done with the aim of collecting intelligence information about the Soviet Union."

Powers' appearance in court was his family's first sight of him since before his ill-fated flight. They arrived in Moscow last weekend but the Soviets refused to permit them to see him. Repeated requests from the U.S. Embassy to interview the flier also were refused.

Powers' eyes raked the audience of 1,500 as he entered the courtroom, apparently seeking his family. But he clearly did not find them, for at no time did he look at their box under the rear balcony.

The Kremlin launched the trial in a blazing spotlight of publicity, focusing new attention on the ill-fated reconnaissance flight over Soviet territory which Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave as his reason for breaking up the May summit conference in Paris.

As the state's chief accuser, the Soviet government named Roman Andreyevich Rudenko, 53, the general public prosecutor who was the chief Soviet prosecutor at the Nuernberg war crimes trials.

Powers is being defended by a mild-mannered public defender, Mikhail Ilich Griniov, another Soviet attorney at Nuernberg. Three attorneys sent by the Virginia Bar Assn. were admitted to the Soviet Union with the Powers family but were not permitted to take part in the trial.

The Soviet press and radio kept up its barrage against the United States. A Russian-language broadcast for home listeners said: "The trial of the arch-spy Powers, hireling of Allen Dulles (head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) and those of his kind, has begun." It called the prisoner's box "the bench of shame on which the entire provocative policy of the U.S. cold war knights is on show today."

The Soviets claim that Powers' plane was shot down by a rocket while the U2 was 68,000 feet over the highly industrialized Urals area, in the region of Sverdlovsk. The pilot bailed out and was captured. American U2 flights over Soviet territory had been going on since 1956, but the Soviets said nothing about them publicly until Powers was taken.

The announcement on May 5 of Powers' capture launched an anti-American barrage which has never ceased. The Soviets have charged President Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, CIA chief Dulles and other U.S. government leaders with pursuing a deliberate policy of trying to provoke the Soviet Union into a war.

age on 21 regular school buses, one extra bus and all other vehicles owned by the board was accepted. Welty Vulgamore of New Cumberland, agent, filed the bid. The company has held the contract for a number of years.

Two dairies — Weir Cove of Weirton and Golden Star of East Liverpool — each submitted bids of 6½ cents a half-pint for furnishing milk for the schools.

Weir Coeve, which supplied milk last term, received the contract.

Cy Govey of Chester was awarded a contract to supply coal for the system on his bid of $7.50 per ton delivered.

The instructors hired include Sam Amato, June Coe, Chrissoula Karastamatis and Mary Alice Dayoub, given first-year probationary contracts; Rosslynd Steward, June Richards, and Mary Jane Andrasik, given second-year probationary contracts, and Bradley Wilcox, given a third-year probationary contract.

The board also authorized Supt. Robert H. Hall to proceed with repairs to the old portion of the Liberty School at Weirton. The project is expected to cost $695.

The Chester High School Band was given permission to perform at the Hookstown Fair Aug. 27. The Weir High Band was authorized to present a concert in Weir Stadium Aug. 27 for the Olympic Fund benefit.

Eleanor Risher of Pughtown was granted a leave of absence and Carol Bell Dean's resignation was accepted. She taught last year in New Cumberland.

Interclub Event Held By Chester Kiwanians

A report on the Kiwanis International convention at Miami in June was given by Charles Merrill of Salem at a interclub meeting of the Chester and Salem clubs Tuesday night at the Chester City Hall auditorium.

Merrill said, "You do not really know Kiwanis until you attend an international convention." He urged members to attend the 1961 convention at Toronto, Canada.

Other Salem members attending last night's meeting were Lester Dunlap, Harold Graham and Harold Wykoff.

ing then changed his vote to "no" to make it unanimous.

Council also rejected by a 5-2 vote a suggestion that the sanitary sewer problem be alleviated by having the city install backwater checks for homeowners financially unable to do so, and have others with fatter pocketbooks bear the cost of installing backwater traps in their own homes.

The suggestion was favored by Ralston and Strobel and turned down by the five others.

During the lengthy discussion following the reading of the proposed downspout ordinance, Council talked over difficulties which might have been created by its passage and whether or not it would have alleviated the sanitary sewer overflow problem, particularly in the West End.

George Lewis, a city plumber, cautioned Council from the audience to "consider the situation seriously," asserting it would cost some homeowners hundreds of dollars to make the downspout changes.

He also suggested that in hardship cases, Council could permit the downspouts to remain connected but charge the individual a sewage rental fee.

Lewis declared that the problem goes back to a previous Council, which decided to build a less expensive sewage disposal system but which he said is too small for the needs of the city.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson, in reply to a question, told Council that storm sewers emptying into the sanitary sewers are kept clean below the drains and some sewers have been cleaned.

Council also voiced opinion that a 60-day time limit in the downspout ordinance did not give homeowners enough time to disconnect the drains. Robinson suggested that the time element could be overcome by having homeowners write a bona fide letter of intent to make the change and they would be given additional time if they requested it in the letter.

Mrs. Rahter questioned if the sewage plant is adequate under normal conditions and was told that the plant is adequate but is overloaded during the peak of a storm.

In answer to a comment by Lewis, the president also explained that she had served on the previous Council which had passed legislation for the sewage plant and Council had decided to build the cheaper structure to save taxpayers any additional cost.

Council authorized construction of the present sewage disposal plant instead of another that would have cost about $990,000.

After the ordinance and the backwater check plan were rejected, Council ended the discussion by turning the problem over to the sewage and ordinance committees.

In discussing the second plan of having homeowners install backwater checks, depending on their financial ability, Robinson declared that he would not take the responsibility of serving as a one-man board to rule on who should install their own or otherwise.

last January and, he said, had repeatedly requested in several messages.

In a wide-ranging discussion of national and international affairs, the President rejected vigorously any suggestion that the United States has blundered in its dealings with Cuba.

He said the Russians cannot put the United States on trial along with U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers. If the Russians want to try him as the President who directed the flight, that's all right with him, Eisenhower added.

Powers

family background and his education.

Then came the reading of the long indictment and then, with surprising rapidity, the plea.

MORE

"Have you heard and understood the charges against you?" asked the presiding judge, Lt. Gen. Viktor V. Borisoglebsky.

"Yes," Powers replied after rising in the prisoner's box.

"Do you acknowledge that you are guilty?" the judge continued from his high-backed chair beneath the hammer and sickle emblem of the Soviet Union.

"Yes, I plead guilty."

"Be seated," said the judge.

There was a stir throughout the audience and the judge declared a recess for 20 minutes.

The plea of guilty came as no surprise, for the indictment previously published — said Powers had pleaded guilty to flying over Soviet territory, turning on and off special equipment aboard his plane, and believed this "was done with the aim of collecting intelligence information about the Soviet Union."

Powers' appearance in court was his family's first sight of him since before his ill-fated flight. They arrived in Moscow last weekend but the Soviets refused to permit them to see him. Repeated requests from the U.S. Embassy to interview the flier also were refused.

Powers' eyes raked the audience of 1,500 as he entered the courtroom, apparently seeking his family. But he clearly did not find them, for at no time did he look at their box under the rear balcony.

The Kremlin launched the trial in a blazing spotlight of publicity, focusing new attention on the ill-fated reconnaissance flight over Soviet territory which Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave as his reason for breaking up the May summit conference in Paris.

As the state's chief accuser, the Soviet government named Roman Andreyevich Rudenko, 53, the general public prosecutor who was the chief Soviet prosecutor at the Nuernberg war crimes trials.

Powers is being defended by a mild-mannered public defender, Mikhail Ilich Griniov, another Soviet attorney at Nuernberg. Three attorneys sent by the Virginia Bar Assn. were admitted to the Soviet Union with the Powers family but were not permitted to take part in the trial.

The Soviet press and radio kept up its barrage against the United States. A Russian-language broadcast for home listeners said: "The trial of the arch-spy Powers, hireling of Allen Dulles (head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) and those of his kind, has begun." It called the prisoner's box "the bench of shame on which the entire provocative policy of the U.S. cold war knights is on show today."

The Soviets claim that Powers' plane was shot down by a rocket while the U2 was 68,000 feet over the highly industrialized Urals area, in the region of Sverdlovsk. The pilot bailed out and was captured. American U2 flights over Soviet territory had been going on since 1956, but the Soviets said nothing about them publicly until Powers was taken.

The announcement on May 5 of Powers' capture launched an anti-American barrage which has never ceased. The Soviets have charged President Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, CIA chief Dulles and other U.S. government leaders with pursuing a deliberate policy of trying to provoke the Soviet Union into a war.

age on 21 regular school buses, one extra bus and all other vehicles owned by the board was accepted. Welty Vulgamore of New Cumberland, agent, filed the bid. The company has held the contract for a number of years.

Two dairies — Weir Cove of Weirton and Golden Star of East Liverpool — each submitted bids of 6½ cents a half-pint for furnishing milk for the schools.

Weir Coeve, which supplied milk last term, received the contract.

Cy Govey of Chester was awarded a contract to supply coal for the system on his bid of $7.50 per ton delivered.

The instructors hired include Sam Amato, June Coe, Chrissoula Karastamatis and Mary Alice Dayoub, given first-year probationary contracts; Rosslynd Steward, June Richards, and Mary Jane Andrasik, given second-year probationary contracts, and Bradley Wilcox, given a third-year probationary contract.

The board also authorized Supt. Robert H. Hall to proceed with repairs to the old portion of the Liberty School at Weirton. The project is expected to cost $695.

The Chester High School Band was given permission to perform at the Hookstown Fair Aug. 27. The Weir High Band was authorized to present a concert in Weir Stadium Aug. 27 for the Olympic Fund benefit.

Eleanor Risher of Pughtown was granted a leave of absence and Carol Bell Dean's resignation was accepted. She taught last year in New Cumberland.

Cherchez Le Provocateur

In French police practice, as all readers of detective novels know, the essence of crime solution is to look for the woman—Cherchez la femme.

This rule is based on Gallic experience over the centuries. Man does not live by crime alone. He needs not only bread but companionship to while away the hours.

There now is a rule of equal logic in solving the crime of violence in international affairs. It is "Cherchez le provocateur."

The provocateur is the agent schooled in the tactics of the Communist Conspiracy who shows up on schedule in every place on earth where trouble is brewing. He—or she—knows precisely what to do to provoke restless, angry people into mob action.

Today, the provocateurs are scoring heavily in the unsettled affairs of the new republic of Congo. Earlier this summer, they had a field day in Tokyo.

THEY ARE BELIEVED to be setting up an outpost in Cuba, from which they can reach Latin American countries on overnight journeys.

They have smeared the streets of Italian and French cities with blood. In the '20s and '30s they plied their dark profession successfully in all the large cities of the United States. They could blow up a riot anywhere on a few days' notice.

They blew up a riot successfully a few months ago in San Francisco. They are always with us, although vigilant police work has reduced their effectiveness.

Even in the United States, where their mischievous tactics are as well known as the tactics of bona fide political agitators, there is no way to make sure they won't find enough converts to start trouble. In the Congo, where people have had no experience in government, the job is easy.

If they can force the United Nations out of that country, the way will be open for their Russian and Chinese masters, the chief conspirators of Communism, to carry out their subversion at leisure.

THIS IS a touch-and-go moment for the U.N.'s ability to fulfill its purpose of guaranteeing cooperative security.

In the Congo it has been given a peremptory challenge by the Communist conspiracy.

Elsewhere, the challenge always has been a little less than peremptory. There was always a way to evade its full force.

This is why the secretary-general of the United Nations sees the Congo as the potential origin of war.

If the Communist Conspiracy can run the U.N. peacemakers and negotiators out of the new republic of Congo, it can run them out of any place on earth where it has a similar advantage of a backward population, confused leadership and antipathy against the old order.

"Why not jump from the frying pan into the fire?" it asks. And the answer, as likely as not, is the question, "Why not?"

When Will It Be 'Finished'?

It is ironic that the internal squabble on the Democratic team which Sen. Johnson and Sen. Kennedy hoped was blocked by their end run around the civil rights issue on the first day of the abbreviated congressional session has reared its head on another issue.

The Senate Finance Committee, ruled by Democrats, has taken a position diametrically opposed to the Democratic platform promises on medical aid to the aged. Because they are pledged to support the platform, Sen. Johnson and Sen. Kennedy have no choice but to accept the challenge and face up to a fight on the Senate floor.

BUT SEN. KENNEDY, in pledging to do battle, put his finger on the reason the contest exists. He said in a speech at Hyde Park, N. Y., that what Franklin D. Roosevelt started in the Social Security Act 25 years ago must be finished.

And the question that scares many a citizen half out of his wits is: When will it be finished?

The question is not one of the merits of social security, which by this time is reasonably well accepted as a tool of the nation's economic life. The question is rather one of approach and degree.

Is social security going to serve as a base to guarantee all citizens a minimum amount of security in retirement, upon which they can build further if they so desire? Or is it going to be extended and extended until it attempts to give everybody over 65 a life so luxurious that everyone will be anxious to grow old so he can enjoy a better standard of living off the government than he ever enjoyed by his own efforts?

Preposterous as that sounds, it sometimes seems to be dangerously close to what the welfare staters have in mind.

In addition, many of the nation's younger citizens have qualms about the deductions needed to pay for the extended programs. They are the ones who are necessarily — and rightfully — more concerned with providing for their own young families now than with providing for their own old age in the distant future.

THE REASON so many citizens are reluctant to endorse efforts to introduce new social security programs is not because they fail to recognize an element of need, but because they fear where the programs will wind up before the political spenders decide they are "finished."

The Senate Finance Committee and millions of voters agree that some program to aid aged persons hard hit by medical bills is in order.

But they are not convinced that the best solution is a compulsory, all-inclusive social security program that will be primarily a brand new track on which the spenders of other people's money can set off with destination unknown.

Falling From East Liverpool To Lisbon

Space achievements are becoming so commonplace that new records in the field are failing to garner more than a perfunctory report. But the latest achievement forces a double take perhaps because it involved a human being unassisted' by rockets or jets.

Air Force Capt. John Kittinger parachuted from a balloon at an altitude of 103,000 feet, or roughly 19½ miles, and after a quick physical examination talked to newsmen as if it had been an everyday feat.

One of the amazing aspects of his performance is the fact he fell 16 miles, or approximately from East Liverpool to Lisbon, before his main parachute opened.

The total trip required slightly over 13 minutes and his speed during the free fall was estimated at 445 miles per hour.

A few years ago, it was unthinkable to fly a plane at this altitude let alone make a parachute jump from the edge of space.

The record during World II for a parachute jump was 55,000 feet set by two British fliers from a disabled bomber.

As a veteran newsman said when handling the fantastic story of Charles Lindberg's Atlantic solo, "They've passed the realm of imagination."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A New Jersey doctor says two men who invaded his home, drew guns, stole $200, tied him up, told him they had been hired by his wife to bump him off, then turned out the lights and watched video with him, finally becoming friendly and offering to work for him in a plot against his wife.

It just goes to show the part TV is playing in all phases of life. But how does a victim know whether he is getting the works or whether it is all on TV?

How can bandits keep steadfastly at their own nefarious jobs if engrossed in a whodunit?

This was a case where gangsters suddenly exclaimed, "What'll we do for excitement. Let's see what's on TV."

Turning out the lights, they said to their victim, "Sit in on this, buddy. It's pretty dull around here otherwise."

Maybe cowboys, marshals, Injuns, stagecoach bandits, etc., gave the invaders and the victim a feeling that eastern lawlessness was pretty boresome.

It's possible nothing they were engaged in, however violent, gave the New Jersey baddies any idea "Frisco Beat," "77 Sunset Strip," "Jack Webb" and "Highway Patrol" wouldn't relieve the monotony of their own lawlessness.

With cries of "Throw down your guns," "Come out with your hands up!" "Have the roadblock set up at once," and "Let's cut 'em off at the pass!" pouring out of the TV set, all discussions between mobsters and the victim over such matters as bumping off a mate can seem to be mere chit chat.

Video has terrific fascinations and it's not hard to imagine the victim responding to bandit's: "The wife hired us to bump you off," with a stern "Quiet. Let's first see how this fight between the wagon train folks and the Sioux comes out."

TRUJILLO HAS NAMED himself a delegate to the U.N. Since he has lasted as Dominican Republic's ruler for 30 years he may be asked to demonstrate a survival kit in the East River.

A Navajo Indian girl has been chosen Miss Indian of America. The contest photos show Indian chicks to be the first to enter beauty contest without dependence on feathers.

Thieves stole 632 typewriters in a New York haul. (Wait 'til they have to change the ribbons! ! ! !)

Jackie Gleason is to do a 90-minute TV play on Jim Fisk, famed financial rigger, playboy and all around "operator" of the 80's. Crooked as he was, Fisk was one of the most colorful figures of his era, a born showman and a lover of theatrics. At the height of his career he not only bought a steamship line but had a special "admiral's" uniform made for him and wore it in frequent appearances at the pier and on the trips. He is a natural for TV and Gleason has the talent to do him with essential comedy touch.

Mechanical brains can not communicate with one another. But it will be embarrassing when one has to ask, "What did you say?"

Teddy Roosevelt's life will be done on TV. Why not. Every day of his life was a "Western."

There are more people in the world who rub noses as a symbol of greeting or affection than there are people who kiss and shake hands.

The only girl to be chosen "Miss America" twice was Mary Katherine Campbell, who received the honor in 1922 and 1923.

According to the U. S. Red Cross, eight pints of human blood are used every minute of every day to treat the ill and injured.

U.S. Urged To Reveal Red Spying

By Victor Riesel

PARIS

Soon the voice of the turbulent Khrushchev will be heard accusing us of using Berlin as an espionage center. Some clean cut young men such as Francis Powers, will be nabbed near the Soviet zonal line. For their sake, however those kids will be, let's cry out in advance, successful at least once against the massive Soviet espionage operations.

Victor Riesel

Let's rip the lid off the MFS—The Berlin based intelligence system—user of poison gases and secret chemicals, homosexuals, prostitutes, convicts, narcotics, blackmailers, forgers and killers.

There are 2,000 of them operating in Berlin and 11,500 others based in East Germany. None are out of character because MFS is created in the image of its chief, a confessed murderer. He is Lt. Gen. Erich Mielke.

Since Nov. 2, 1957 he has directed this network out of 22 Normannenstrasse, Berlin-Lichtenberg.

FOR NINE YEARS MFS has spied on us in Berlin and Germany. Since 1951 it has sent its operatives into NATO, West Germany, Austria and Scandinavia—the very same countries Khrushchev has threatened with rockets if they cooperate with our intelligence forces.

Of its 22 major departments, the most effective MFS group is the "Main Administration Intelligence" —HVA. Its agents are so highly trained they are not expendable. Therefore, the MFS uses the drone technique.

It pours hundreds of incompetents on obvious assignments into West Berlin and the Western nations. They are the decoys. They operate so sloppily they are easily detected. But they absorb the energy and time of our counter-agents.

Thus the professionals of HVA slip in and out of our lines sometimes with ease. They are an elite group of 500.

When the elite cadres need technical help, the coordinate with the Technical Dept.

Dept. K, for example, has workshops of all kinds. They're manned by men of nimble fingers, mostly criminals out of prison or still serving time.

The High Frequency Section shops have developed small microphones with diameters of eight millimeters. They're attached to tiny tape recorders. Other specialists place these in automobiles, hollowed-out furniture legs, distributor caps of electric circuits and wrist watches.

THESE ARE PLANTED on our NATO diplomats and military men. Through these gadgets Khrushchev's agents eavesdrop on the Austrians, the British, the Norwegians—the same people he bellows he'll bury if they permit our aircraft on their soil.

And in the Chemical Section the specialists develop secret inks and the "gaseous narcotics."

These were used to impregnate chocolate eaten by one of our people in Berlin.

The Communists used candy shaped like small cognac bottles injected with scopolamine, which induces "twilight sleep." Our agents broke that one up fast. But the "twilight sleep" stuff has worked successfully elsewhere.

The division we watch closely is MFS Dept. 2—Counter Intelligence.

Section 1 of Dept. 2 is run by Lt. Gen. Walther Koenig. It is assigned to cover U.S. Intelligence Services. They fly over our installations regularly.

This department works closely with MFS Dept. 8 — Surveillance, Investigations and Arrests.

This is an executive agency in MFS. It moves at the request of operational divisions on special assignment. For such investigations it uses something called U-Groups, which the pros refer to as "invisible groups."

THE U-GROUPS employ secret informants, most of whom are strong-arm men out of the Berlin underworld.

The U-Groups use the criminals for burglaries, beatings, destruction or theft of card files and even the murder of anti-Communist leaders of exiled organizations.

Some of the MFS departments work with something called the Arbeitsburo, 49 Wilhelm Pieck Strasse, Berlin.

This is the agency which attempts to infiltrate, disrupt or capture anti-Communist German unio in the Western Republic. They leave nothing to chance, nothing uncovered, nothing unspied on.

Why doesn't our State Department start shouting espionage first? Just for once, we'd put them on the defensive. Just for once. Just so we know what it is like. I'll wager it's a real nice feeling.

Vacation Capsules

By Truman Twill

Thanks to the spaceman program, which trains candidetes for space travel by putting them through their experiences under laboratory conditions, anyone now can "enjoy" a vacation without leaving home.

Just build your own vacation "capsule" in the back yard. Climb into it, stay a fortnight under simulated conditions and go back to work as bushed as if you had been through the real thing.

The difference will be that you will be saving the cost of a real vacation. No matter how fancy the do-it-yourself capsule might turn out to be, it wouldn't cost as much as the real thing.

If this idea catches on, companies will rent out vacation capsules to suit a client's needs — a seaside capsule one year, a fishing camp capsule, a touring capsule, a mountain lodge capsule and so on.

There may be a demand for two weeks in a being-shot-to-the-moon capsule, to meet the requirements of vacationers always looking for something different.

Some years ago, a few close friends and I spent a fortnight at the seaside. It was a memorable experience.

For 24 hours a day there was the heavy swoosh of the waves banging up on the beach, then the tssschpp as the water ran back—a simple sound effect.

For 24 hours a day there was the special kind of salt-water-sticky humidity that goes with the seashore. It reached a climax when a hurricane roared up the coast and blew down everything it couldn't blow away. That could be simulated nearly inside a seaside capsule with fans and sprays.

More distinctly than any other seaside detail I remember the insects, which were of various kinds. But all of them crawled, tickled and bit. Most of them left welts. This is another detail that would be no trouble in a seaside capsule. Just keep letting in insects from the outside as the victim killed off the marauders.

Another memorable detail was the odor of theoretically edible marine life being cooked to death in deep fat. It is the same smell encountered in front of cheap hash houses that vent their effluvium into the streets — a smell like rubber being roasted over a slow fire.

In a seaside capsule, there also would be the sound effect of loud radios and phonographs, also seagulls and the shrill shrieks of young females being slapped by the waves and members of the opposite sex.

In a fishing camp capsule, one of the prominent features would be live bait. Another would be chronic indigestion — the kind that makes you think of a sink with a clogged trap.

The touring capsule would feature car sickness, wraparound underwear, bus fumes, trying to pick out route markers at 70 miles an hour, nervous exhaustion, anxiety patterns and the odor of decaying bananas.

A mountain lodge capsule, on the other hand, would feature the aromatic fragrance of pine needles, primitive plumbing, the sighing of the wind in tall trees and the unbearable loneliness of an existance in which there would be nothing to look forward to but going up one side and down the other.

Each vacation experience could be simulated inside a capsule no larger than a mobile house. The vacationer would disappear inside for a fortnight and when he came out his skin would be burned, his hair would be unruly, his patience would be exhausted, his mind would be broadened by the realiziation that life is not a bowl of cherries.

Even so, he would not have suffered as much as he would suffer under the circumstances that would prevail if he had gone on a real vacation, instead of settling for a simulated experience. In the event of death, there would be no need to send home the body; it would be on the premises.

Atrocities Condoned?

By David Lawrence

Congo Fails To Apologize For Violence

An amazing item came over the news ticker on Monday of this week. It read in part as follows: "The State Department asked Congress today for an extra 100 million dollars in foreign - aid funds to help the violence - torn Congo and possibly other new African nations."

David Lawrence

Not many days ago the troops of the Congo government which is to be given American taxpayers' money committed one of the worst atrocities in human history — brutal attacks on white residents, with wholesale beatings of the men, mistreatment of the children and rape of the women, including at least two American missionaries.

Yet the Prime Minister of the Congo government has called it all a "lie," and not a word of regret or apology has come from the very government whose troops were guilty of the atrocities — and whose same troops now would be supported with money furnished by the taxpayers of America.

The United States ambassador in Leopoldville reported the facts at the time and a commission of inquiry created on July 16 by the Belgian government has just issued a preliminary report that documents case after case.

The commission is composed entirely of high judges of Belgian courts and is not under control of the government.

ITS REPORT deals only with cases "among those which the commission can retain as established and proved as of now," but presents what it calls "often painful details" of the rapings of well over one hundred women, including a number of nuns, most of whom were savagely assaulted not once but over and over again.

The commission points out that the press has reported that 291 Belgian women have testified to such treatment.

No word of public condemnation, however, has come from the Department of State addressed to the Congo government itself or to the press, expressing American disapproval of what has happened.

Not so many months ago the same Department of State, however, was quick to interfere in the internal affairs of the government of the Union of South Africa by issuing a statement condemning outnumbered police because they fired at a mob of several thousands that threatened them.

Surely this is a precedent for public expression now about the horrors in the Congo, though there are plenty of precedents in international law, anyway, which say a government may at any time express opinions and take action when the lives and property of its citizens have been impaired.

The United Nations itself is subject to severe criticism for having failed to recognize the right of the Belgian troops to remain in the Congo to protect the lives and property of Belgian subjects and to secure redress for grievances suffered by them.

Since the United Nations has taken over instead, then it is the duty of that organization, morally at least, to obtain redress. Yet, so far as anyone knows, the U.N. secretary general has done nothing to require the Congo government to administer punishment to those troops guilty of rape.

So far as the U.N. is concerned, the atrocities have been ignored—as if they had not occurred.

IT MAY BE wondered what possible good can be served by giving money to an irresponsible government which has not yet shown its capacity to honor its obligations to all foreign residents.

The State Department insists that the extra 100 million is needed "to restore some of the fundamental conditions that will permit a more normal life to be resumed."

But how can a capacity to govern be suddenly acquired by a people hardly emerged from savagery? How can there be any respect for the lives and properties of foreigners in the future if the United States now overlooks the misdeeds of the Congo government and turns around and gives it money?

But American taxpayers who are expected to foot the bill can still have recourse to their own Congress and insist that not a penny be appropriated to the new Congo government until satisfactory action has been taken not only to punish the wrongdoers but to safeguard foreigners against similar attacks in the future.

THE ARGUMENT will be made that, if the United States doesn't help with money now, the Soviet Union will.

The truth is that the Communists have their agents in the Congo already and have played no small part in egging on the terrorists so as to create more and more complex problems for the countries of the West.

Unless the Congo government is willing to exterminate the Communist intriguers and stop trying to blackmail the West by attempting to play off Moscow against Washington, there is little justification for pouring American taxpayers' money down the drain in the Congo.

Certainly the "civil rights" of the white women in the Congo would seem to be as important as any other "civil rights" which motivate so many political demonstrations nowadays in this country.

Foot-In-The-Door Period

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Since this is the foot-in-the-door period of American history, that may be the kind of medical care program for the aged Congress will produce in 1960.

In time of national crisis, urgency and emergency, you can look to Congress for fast, drastic and far-reaching legislation. When the country is prosperous, as it is now, and pressures are mild, Congress gets cautious and conservative.

It limits itself pretty much to foot-in-the-door legislation which, while it may set out down a new road, won't be extreme. What it does is open the door for more extensive legislation later, usually bit by bit.

Congressional action under crisis and pressure was demonstrated in the New Deal days of the 1930s when the country was stopped dead by depression and Congress passed the social security law, the 40-hour week, the Wagner labor act.

Under the stimulus of the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation, Congress in 1957 passed the first civil rights act of the 20th century.

This was a comparatively mild piece of legislation which, while it angered white Southerners, left Negroes and northern liberals displeased because it didn't go further.

This was the typical foot-in-the-door type of legislation when there was no national emergency. It was hardly more than a beginning. But, it opened the door for more action later.

This year Congress passed another civil rights act, still rather mild and limited. No doubt it will be followed in the years ahead by more civil rights legislation, each piece opening the door a little further.

For several years the idea of providing some kind of medical care for the 16 million people over 65 has been growing in the national consciousness and in Congress.

It has taken two main directions:

1. Provide medical care for most people over 65—since most retired people's income is a lot less than when they worked—with the program paid for by a slight boost in the social security tax. This would mean a broad health insurance program for older people.

2. Provide a much narrower program by letting the states set up their own individual plans, with the federal government chipping in—through grants—to help pay the cost. This is the mad approach and would cover far fewer people than those who would be affected under No. 1.

Last June the House passed the No. 2 kind of bill, estimated to benefit perhaps 500,000 to one million people a year. Then it was up to the Senate to act. But in between times came the political conventions.

The Democratic platform called for the No. 1 kind of program, with most older people entitled on a wide scale to health insurance paid for in their working years through the added social security tax.

The Republican platform was extremely vague but can be listed under the No. 2 type of program: federal grants to states which would set up their own programs. They probably would vary from state to state.

Although the Democratic candidates—Sen. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson—backed the kind of program promised in their party platform, they soon ran into a bottleneck.

There will be a fight on the medical care program before this session of Congress ends. Perhaps the Kennedy-Johnson forces will win. More likely the result will be a mild, limited compromise.

But once such a program is passed it becomes a foot in the door for broader legislation later, if only a bit at a time.

The state legislature is known as the General Court in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

Cherchez Le Provocateur

In French police practice, as all readers of detective novels know, the essence of crime solution is to look for the woman—Cherchez la femme.

This rule is based on Gallic experience over the centuries. Man does not live by crime alone. He needs not only bread but companionship to while away the hours.

There now is a rule of equal logic in solving the crime of violence in international affairs. It is "Cherchez le provocateur."

The provocateur is the agent schooled in the tactics of the Communist Conspiracy who shows up on schedule in every place on earth where trouble is brewing. He—or she—knows precisely what to do to provoke restless, angry people into mob action.

Today, the provocateurs are scoring heavily in the unsettled affairs of the new republic of Congo. Earlier this summer, they had a field day in Tokyo.

THEY ARE BELIEVED to be setting up an outpost in Cuba, from which they can reach Latin American countries on overnight journeys.

They have smeared the streets of Italian and French cities with blood. In the '20s and '30s they plied their dark profession successfully in all the large cities of the United States. They could blow up a riot anywhere on a few days' notice.

They blew up a riot successfully a few months ago in San Francisco. They are always with us, although vigilant police work has reduced their effectiveness.

Even in the United States, where their mischievous tactics are as well known as the tactics of bona fide political agitators, there is no way to make sure they won't find enough converts to start trouble. In the Congo, where people have had no experience in government, the job is easy.

If they can force the United Nations out of that country, the way will be open for their Russian and Chinese masters, the chief conspirators of Communism, to carry out their subversion at leisure.

THIS IS a touch-and-go moment for the U.N.'s ability to fulfill its purpose of guaranteeing cooperative security.

In the Congo it has been given a peremptory challenge by the Communist conspiracy.

Elsewhere, the challenge always has been a little less than peremptory. There was always a way to evade its full force.

This is why the secretary-general of the United Nations sees the Congo as the potential origin of war.

If the Communist Conspiracy can run the U.N. peacemakers and negotiators out of the new republic of Congo, it can run them out of any place on earth where it has a similar advantage of a backward population, confused leadership and antipathy against the old order.

"Why not jump from the frying pan into the fire?" it asks. And the answer, as likely as not, is the question, "Why not?"

When Will It Be 'Finished'?

It is ironic that the internal squabble on the Democratic team which Sen. Johnson and Sen. Kennedy hoped was blocked by their end run around the civil rights issue on the first day of the abbreviated congressional session has reared its head on another issue.

The Senate Finance Committee, ruled by Democrats, has taken a position diametrically opposed to the Democratic platform promises on medical aid to the aged. Because they are pledged to support the platform, Sen. Johnson and Sen. Kennedy have no choice but to accept the challenge and face up to a fight on the Senate floor.

BUT SEN. KENNEDY, in pledging to do battle, put his finger on the reason the contest exists. He said in a speech at Hyde Park, N. Y., that what Franklin D. Roosevelt started in the Social Security Act 25 years ago must be finished.

And the question that scares many a citizen half out of his wits is: When will it be finished?

The question is not one of the merits of social security, which by this time is reasonably well accepted as a tool of the nation's economic life. The question is rather one of approach and degree.

Is social security going to serve as a base to guarantee all citizens a minimum amount of security in retirement, upon which they can build further if they so desire? Or is it going to be extended and extended until it attempts to give everybody over 65 a life so luxurious that everyone will be anxious to grow old so he can enjoy a better standard of living off the government than he ever enjoyed by his own efforts?

Preposterous as that sounds, it sometimes seems to be dangerously close to what the welfare staters have in mind.

In addition, many of the nation's younger citizens have qualms about the deductions needed to pay for the extended programs. They are the ones who are necessarily — and rightfully — more concerned with providing for their own young families now than with providing for their own old age in the distant future.

THE REASON so many citizens are reluctant to endorse efforts to introduce new social security programs is not because they fail to recognize an element of need, but because they fear where the programs will wind up before the political spenders decide they are "finished."

The Senate Finance Committee and millions of voters agree that some program to aid aged persons hard hit by medical bills is in order.

But they are not convinced that the best solution is a compulsory, all-inclusive social security program that will be primarily a brand new track on which the spenders of other people's money can set off with destination unknown.

Falling From East Liverpool To Lisbon

Space achievements are becoming so commonplace that new records in the field are failing to garner more than a perfunctory report. But the latest achievement forces a double take perhaps because it involved a human being unassisted' by rockets or jets.

Air Force Capt. John Kittinger parachuted from a balloon at an altitude of 103,000 feet, or roughly 19½ miles, and after a quick physical examination talked to newsmen as if it had been an everyday feat.

One of the amazing aspects of his performance is the fact he fell 16 miles, or approximately from East Liverpool to Lisbon, before his main parachute opened.

The total trip required slightly over 13 minutes and his speed during the free fall was estimated at 445 miles per hour.

A few years ago, it was unthinkable to fly a plane at this altitude let alone make a parachute jump from the edge of space.

The record during World II for a parachute jump was 55,000 feet set by two British fliers from a disabled bomber.

As a veteran newsman said when handling the fantastic story of Charles Lindberg's Atlantic solo, "They've passed the realm of imagination."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A New Jersey doctor says two men who invaded his home, drew guns, stole $200, tied him up, told him they had been hired by his wife to bump him off, then turned out the lights and watched video with him, finally becoming friendly and offering to work for him in a plot against his wife.

It just goes to show the part TV is playing in all phases of life. But how does a victim know whether he is getting the works or whether it is all on TV?

How can bandits keep steadfastly at their own nefarious jobs if engrossed in a whodunit?

This was a case where gangsters suddenly exclaimed, "What'll we do for excitement. Let's see what's on TV."

Turning out the lights, they said to their victim, "Sit in on this, buddy. It's pretty dull around here otherwise."

Maybe cowboys, marshals, Injuns, stagecoach bandits, etc., gave the invaders and the victim a feeling that eastern lawlessness was pretty boresome.

It's possible nothing they were engaged in, however violent, gave the New Jersey baddies any idea "Frisco Beat," "77 Sunset Strip," "Jack Webb" and "Highway Patrol" wouldn't relieve the monotony of their own lawlessness.

With cries of "Throw down your guns," "Come out with your hands up!" "Have the roadblock set up at once," and "Let's cut 'em off at the pass!" pouring out of the TV set, all discussions between mobsters and the victim over such matters as bumping off a mate can seem to be mere chit chat.

Video has terrific fascinations and it's not hard to imagine the victim responding to bandit's: "The wife hired us to bump you off," with a stern "Quiet. Let's first see how this fight between the wagon train folks and the Sioux comes out."

TRUJILLO HAS NAMED himself a delegate to the U.N. Since he has lasted as Dominican Republic's ruler for 30 years he may be asked to demonstrate a survival kit in the East River.

Jackie Gleason is to do a 90-minute TV play on Jim Fisk, famed financial rigger, playboy and all around "operator" of the 80's. Crooked as he was, Fisk was one of the most colorful figures of his era, a born showman and a lover of theatrics. At the height of his career he not only bought a steamship line but had a special "admiral's" uniform made for him and wore it in frequent appearances at the pier and on the trips. He is a natural for TV and Gleason has the talent to do him with essential comedy touch.

Mechanical brains can not communicate with one another. But it will be embarrassing when one has to ask, "What did you say?"

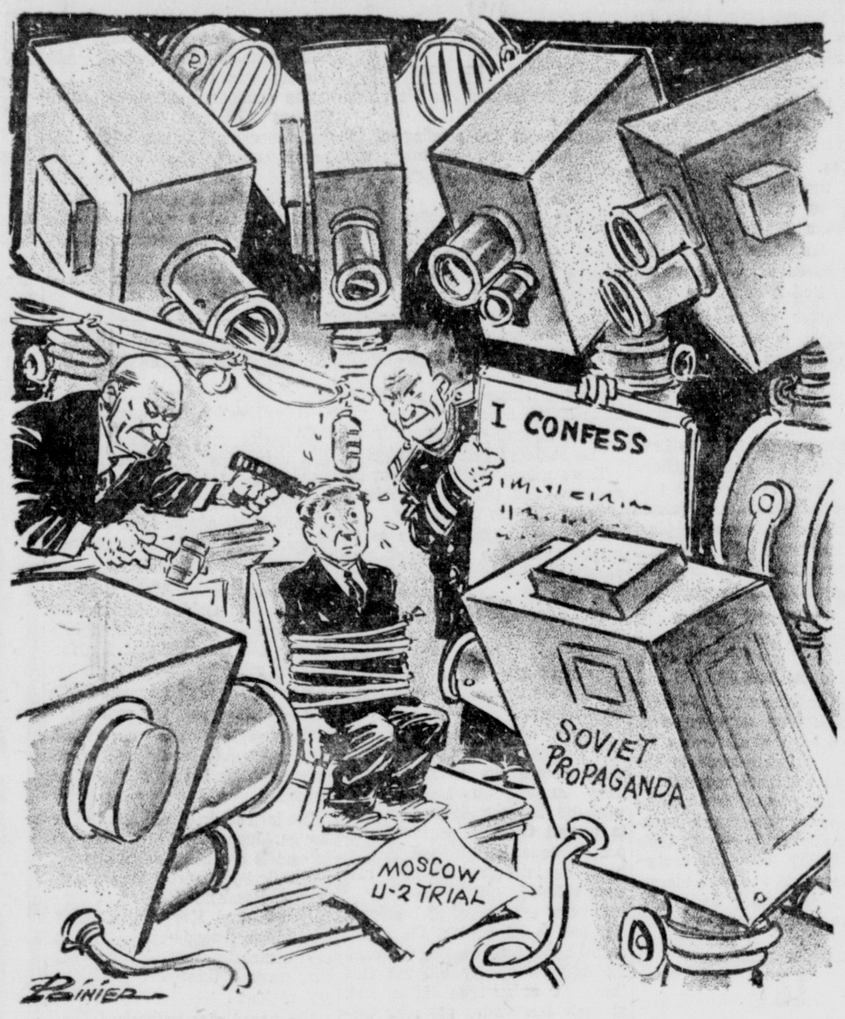

Teddy Roosevelt's life will be done on TV. Why not. Every day of his life was a "Western."

There are more people in the world who rub noses as a symbol of greeting or affection than there are people who kiss and shake hands.

The only girl to be chosen "Miss America" twice was Mary Katherine Campbell, who received the honor in 1922 and 1923.

U.S. Urged To Reveal Red Spying

By Victor Riesel

PARIS

Soon the voice of the turbulent Khrushchev will be heard accusing us of using Berlin as an espionage center. Some clean cut young men such as Francis Powers, will be nabbed near the Soviet zonal line. For their sake, however those kids will be, let's cry out in advance, successful at least once against the massive Soviet espionage operations.

Victor Riesel

Let's rip the lid off the MFS—The Berlin based intelligence system—user of poison gases and secret chemicals, homosexuals, prostitutes, convicts, narcotics, blackmailers, forgers and killers.

There are 2,000 of them operating in Berlin and 11,500 others based in East Germany. None are out of character because MFS is created in the image of its chief, a confessed murderer. He is Lt. Gen. Erich Mielke.

Since Nov. 2, 1957 he has directed this network out of 22 Normannenstrasse, Berlin-Lichtenberg.

FOR NINE YEARS MFS has spied on us in Berlin and Germany. Since 1951 it has sent its operatives into NATO, West Germany, Austria and Scandinavia—the very same countries Khrushchev has threatened with rockets if they cooperate with our intelligence forces.

Of its 22 major departments, the most effective MFS group is the "Main Administration Intelligence" —HVA. Its agents are so highly trained they are not expendable. Therefore, the MFS uses the drone technique.

It pours hundreds of incompetents on obvious assignments into West Berlin and the Western nations. They are the decoys. They operate so sloppily they are easily detected. But they absorb the energy and time of our counter-agents.

Thus the professionals of HVA slip in and out of our lines sometimes with ease. They are an elite group of 500.

When the elite cadres need technical help, the coordinate with the Technical Dept.

Dept. K, for example, has workshops of all kinds. They're manned by men of nimble fingers, mostly criminals out of prison or still serving time.

The High Frequency Section shops have developed small microphones with diameters of eight millimeters. They're attached to tiny tape recorders. Other specialists place these in automobiles, hollowed-out furniture legs, distributor caps of electric circuits and wrist watches.

THESE ARE PLANTED on our NATO diplomats and military men. Through these gadgets Khrushchev's agents eavesdrop on the Austrians, the British, the Norwegians—the same people he bellows he'll bury if they permit our aircraft on their soil.

And in the Chemical Section the specialists develop secret inks and the "gaseous narcotics."

These were used to impregnate chocolate eaten by one of our people in Berlin.

The Communists used candy shaped like small cognac bottles injected with scopolamine, which induces "twilight sleep." Our agents broke that one up fast. But the "twilight sleep" stuff has worked successfully elsewhere.

The division we watch closely is MFS Dept. 2—Counter Intelligence.

Section 1 of Dept. 2 is run by Lt. Gen. Walther Koenig. It is assigned to cover U.S. Intelligence Services. They fly over our installations regularly.

This department works closely with MFS Dept. 8 — Surveillance, Investigations and Arrests.

This is an executive agency in MFS. It moves at the request of operational divisions on special assignment. For such investigations it uses something called U-Groups, which the pros refer to as "invisible groups."

THE U-GROUPS employ secret informants, most of whom are strong-arm men out of the Berlin underworld.

The U-Groups use the criminals for burglaries, beatings, destruction or theft of card files and even the murder of anti-Communist leaders of exiled organizations.

Some of the MFS departments work with something called the Arbeitsburo, 49 Wilhelm Pieck Strasse, Berlin.

This is the agency which attempts to infiltrate, disrupt or capture anti-Communist German unio in the Western Republic. They leave nothing to chance, nothing uncovered, nothing unspied on.

Why doesn't our State Department start shouting espionage first? Just for once, we'd put them on the defensive. Just for once. Just so we know what it is like. I'll wager it's a real nice feeling.

Vacation Capsules

By Truman Twill

Thanks to the spaceman program, which trains candidates for space travel by putting them through their experiences under laboratory conditions, anyone now can "enjoy" a vacation without leaving home.

Just build your own vacation "capsule" in the back yard. Climb into it, stay a fortnight under simulated conditions and go back to work as bushed as if you had been through the real thing.

The difference will be that you will be saving the cost of a real vacation. No matter how fancy the do-it-yourself capsule might turn out to be, it wouldn't cost as much as the real thing.

WASHINGTON

Since this is the foot-in-the-door period of American history, that may be the kind of medical care program for the aged Congress will produce in 1960.

In time of national crisis, urgency and emergency, you can look to Congress for fast, drastic and far-reaching legislation. When the country is prosperous, as it is now, and pressures are mild, Congress gets cautious and conservative.

It limits itself pretty much to foot-in-the-door legislation which, while it may set out down a new road, won't be extreme. What it does is open the door for more extensive legislation later, usually bit by bit.

Congressional action under crisis and pressure was demonstrated in the New Deal days of the 1930s when the country was stopped dead by depression and Congress passed the social security law, the 40-hour week, the Wagner labor act.

Under the stimulus of the Supreme Court's 1954 decision outlawing public school segregation, Congress in 1957 passed the first civil rights act of the 20th century.

This was a comparatively mild piece of legislation which, while it angered white Southerners, left Negroes and northern liberals displeased because it didn't go further.

This was the typical foot-in-the-door type of legislation when there was no national emergency. It was hardly more than a beginning. But, it opened the door for more action later.

This year Congress passed another civil rights act, still rather mild and limited. No doubt it will be followed in the years ahead by more civil rights legislation, each piece opening the door a little further.

For several years the idea of providing some kind of medical care for the 16 million people over 65 has been growing in the national consciousness and in Congress.

It has taken two main directions:

1. Provide medical care for most people over 65—since most retired people's income is a lot less than when they worked—with the program paid for by a slight boost in the social security tax. This would mean a broad health insurance program for older people.

2. Provide a much narrower program by letting the states set up their own individual plans, with the federal government chipping in—through grants—to help pay the cost. This is the mild approach and would cover far fewer people than those who would be affected under No. 1.

Last June the House passed the No. 2 kind of bill, estimated to benefit perhaps 500,000 to one million people a year. Then it was up to the Senate to act. But in between times came the political conventions.

The Democratic platform called for the No. 1 kind of program, with most older people entitled on a wide scale to health insurance paid for in their working years through the added social security tax.

The Republican platform was extremely vague but can be listed under the No. 2 type of program: federal grants to states which would set up their own programs. They probably would vary from state to state.

Although the Democratic candidates—Sen. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson—backed the kind of program promised in their party platform, they soon ran into a bottleneck.

There will be a fight on the medical care program before this session of Congress ends. Perhaps the Kennedy-Johnson forces will win. More likely the result will be a mild, limited compromise.

But once such a program is passed it becomes a foot in the door for broader legislation later, if only a bit at a time.

The state legislature is known as the General Court in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

Steubenville Man Eludes Police

Hunt For Jail Escapee Shifts To Athens County

NELSONVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The hunt for Gordon (Spunky) Firman, 21, who broke out of Coshocton County jail recently and escaped amid a hail of bullets, shifted to this Athens County area today.

The Ohio Highway Patrol apprehended a car carrying six persons at about 11 p.m. Tuesday night near here. Five of them — suspected in a breaking - entering in Pickaway County — were taken into custody.

The sixth — believed to be Firman — again eluded officers. He dashed into some brush, the patrol said, and a search of the area is in progress.

Just Tuesday, Firman was reported far across the state, in Hamilton. Earlier in the day, he was at Lima, according to Bernard Miner, 22, of Lima, who told police at Hamilton that Firman had come to his home and they drove to Hamilton to look for work.

Miner said he was unaware Firman had escaped jail, nor that the car Firman was driving was stolen in Lucasville, Scioto County.

Firman, of Steubenville, sought for car theft, armed robbery and breaking and entering besides the jailbreak, thus apparently has covered a lot of Ohio territory since fleeing jail at Coshocton.

The patrol could not immediately furnish particulars of the Pickaway County breaking - entering for which the five were arrested; nor were their identities disclosed for the moment.

Both Miner and Firman fled after their car hit a parked auto at Hamilton Tuesday but Miner was quickly captured.

Firman eluded a Coshocton County posse Aug. 7-8 after he and three jailmates broke out July 26. The other three were soon taken or gave themselves up, but Firman, vowing "they won't take me alive," ducked into some woods after sheriff's deputies chased the stolen pickup truck he was driving Aug. 7 and he wrecked it north of Coshocton.

That truck was stolen at New Concord.

Ironically, Firman might have been released from the jail the day after his escape. He had been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor but the boy's mother reportedly had decided not to press charges.

County Health Group Points To Worth Of Immunization

LISBON — "Immunization prevents disease and protects lives," Mrs. Violet Peterson, Columbiana County Health Department nurse, said today in an answer directed at parents who sometimes ask why they should have their children immunized.

Mrs. Peterson said, in another in the series of articles by the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council, that records of the Ohio Department of Health show the effectiveness of immunization.

In 1918 there were more than 10,000 cases of smallpox in the state, in 1930 there were 5,116 and for nearly a decade now no cases have been reported.

Diphtheria cases totaled 17,847 in 1921 with 1,075 deaths and but 14 cases in 1958 with 3 deaths.

Immunization against whooping cough is steadily decreasing this disease in children. As late as 1947, more than 10,000 whooping cough cases were reported in the state but only 1,383 in 1959. "There is a definite risk to the child with this disease," she said.

Lockjaw or tetanus was a real danger for barefoot children years ago. Today parents need not fear this disease if their children are immunized. The basic immunization using the three-in-one serum for diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus should be given children in their early months. It is also recommended that each child have regular booster shots to continue their protection, Mrs. Peterson said.

Polio used to be a widespread disease among babies and small children with only a small percentage developing paralysis. They developed immunity to the type of disease involved. However, there are three types of polio virus. A natural immunization against one types does not protect against another. Records from the U.S. Public Health Service show that the largest group not protected against polio is the pre-school group.

Mrs. Peterson said public health authorities agree that if immunization were abandoned, these diseases would return again. The 1959 session of the Ohio Legislature enacted a law requiring proof of immunization be presented when children enter school. She urges that children who have not been properly immunized against these five diseases should receive it at this time to be ready for school.

Teacher Group Seeks To Ban Un-American Activities Unit

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The American Teachers Federation Tuesday night passed a resolution calling for the abolishment of the House Un - American Activities Committee.

The resolution was one of seven adopted at the AFL - CIO Group's evening convention session.

The federation called for abolition of the Un - American Activities Committee on the grounds that California hearings by the committee have resulted in "Irrevocable loss of dignity, reputation and jobs of many California citizens, especially probationary teachers."

The other resolutions passed are:

Encouragement of federal and state legislation and local action to establish new junior colleges and to strengthen and expand the curricula of existing ones.

Organization of a mass lobying delegation to be sent to Washington to dramatize to Congress "the imperative need for extensive federal aid to America's schools."

Introduction of legislation to make kindergartens part of tax-supported public school systems in all communities.

Urging the federal government to set aside one dollar a year per school pupil for a scholarship fund to use for qualified young people denied the opportunity of a college education because of inadequate funds.

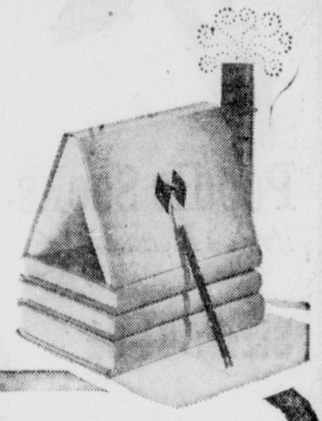

Asking for concentrated attention on union organization of college and university teachers.

Ratification of an amendment to the United States constitution to give residents of the District of Columbia the right to vote.

Earlier Tuesday, the federation learned, via a telegram, that they had Sen. John F. Kennedy's "wholehearted support in your dedicated efforts on behalf of federal aid to education."

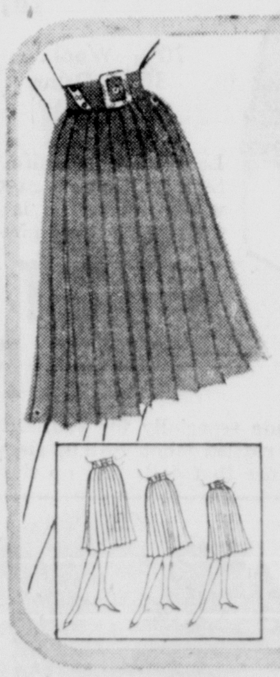

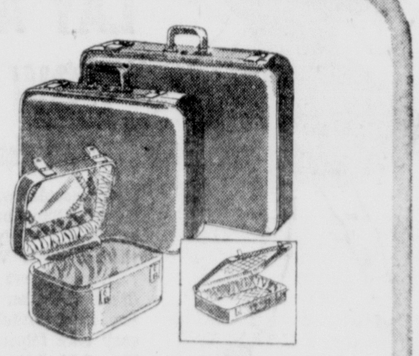

The Democratic presidential nominee from Massachusetts told the 44th annual convention "the shortage of classrooms and the pressing need for more qualified teachers demands a federal program of grants to the states for school construction and teacher salaries."

Board Fills Questionnaire In State Legislative Study

The East Liverpool Board of Education favors state appropriations for the rehabilitation of existing schools and federal aid for construction of new buildings, but is undecided on the question of federal aid for operating expenses in needy districts.

The board gave its answers Monday night in completing a questionnaire circulated by the legislative study committee of the Ohio School Boards Association. The committee said it is preparing to draw up its legislative program for the coming year.

The board went on record as not in favor of establishing a law providing a maximum 40-hour work week for non-teaching employes and also is opposed to any legislation compelling school boards to grant up to five days' paid leave of absence to teachers for personal reasons.

It said it is undecided on whether it should share the cost of life, medical and hospitalization insurance with employes, and also is undecided on whether board members should be reimbursed for their services.

The board declined to answer a question on whether local districts should be rewarded in the state foundation program for efforts made to secure adequate local funds for operation.

The question was termed "ambiguous" because it did not specify how any "rewards" would be made.

It gave a qualified yes to a question asking if the present 12½-mill "charge-off" in the foundation program is excessive. The board said the "charge-off" is excessive for school districts with low valuations.

The board voted against requiring credits in driver training as a legal requirement for graduation, and also said it does not feel certification should be abolished for teachers instructing beyond the sixth grade.

Boards should not be required to spend the same amount of money per child for the education of retarded children as normal children, and also should not be required to pay tuition to any approved agency providing training for mentally retarded youngsters.

The board listed the topography of the East Liverpool area and safety of the children as conditions under which it feels state reimbursement would be justified for transportation of pupils within the two-mile limitation. It now transports pupils within the 2-mill limit.

The board reported the district's total operating costs for bus transportation during the 1958-59 school year was $52,841 with $37,176 being reimbursed by the state.

It spent $7,000 for new busses during the 1959-60 school year with $4,080 being returned by the state.

It reported the actual classroom operating costs during the 1958-59 year at $1,412,020.

The board also informed the state committee it did not have to borrow funds to meet operating costs this year because of the time lag in distribution of tax funds.

It also reported it pays salary differentials to members of the professional staff who give extra services. The extra pay goes to coaches, musical directors, deans, athletic director, yearbook advisor, dramatics teacher, intramural directors and visual education supervisor.

Beaver Support For Corn Is $1.18

The price of 1960-crop corn in Beaver County will be supported at a minimum of $1.18 per bushel, G. M. Swick of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

The local rate is based on a minimum national average support rate of $1.06 which has been determined under the requirements of the Agricultural Act of 1938.

This minimum is determined well in advance of harvest on the basis of preliminary information, so that the price support program can get under way promptly at harvesttime. The minimum rate may be increased if the final 1960-crop corn support price as determined in October is higher. It will not be reduced.

As in the past, Swick said, the price support program for corn will be carried out through loans on farm-stored corn and through purchase agreements. These will be available from harvesttime through May 31, 1961 and will mature July 31, 1961.

To be eligible for support, corn must grade No. 3 or better except that corn grading No. 4 because of test weight only will also be eligible. Corn must meet certain moisture requirements and must also be in adequate storage. Detailed information is available at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office at Beaver.

Miss Donna J. Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ward, 920 St. Clair Ave., became the bride of Donald H. Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cline, 1823 St. Clair Ave., Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Church of God.

The Rev. Raymond Miller, minister, officiated for the single-ring ceremony before an altar banked with lilies and palms. Seven-branch candelabra highlighted the setting.

Miss Janet Miller, church organist, presented a half-hour of wedding music.

The bride wore a pastel blue, classic shirtwaist of silk broadcloth with a damask-woven oriental pattern. It featured a full skirt of unpressed pleats. She wore a white flowered capulet with a small veil and white accessories. Her single strand of pearls and matching button earrings was the gift of the bridegroom.

She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers tied with lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Ruth A. Cooper was maid of honor and wore a champagne beige voile dress with matching lace in the tucked bodice. Her skirt was also styled with unpressed pleats.

She wore a silk flowered, half-hat in shades of beige, along with champagne color pumps. Her sterling silver and pearl bracelet was the gift of the bride. She carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds with matching lace streamers.

Edward Cline served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Robert Johnson and Frank McHenry, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of aqua with pink flowered cloche and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a Navy lace dress with matching jacket and white accessories.

MRS. D. H. CLINE
Bride Of Friday Night Rites.

A reception for 60 was held in the social rooms. A three - tier cake, touched with silver rings and topped with miniature wedding bells, centered the buffet table.

Aides were Mrs. James Houchin, Mrs. Edith Buchheit and Mrs. Bessie M. Cooper.

The bride is a graduate of Lisbon High School. Her husband was graduated from East Liverpool High School and works at the Crucible Steel Co. of Midland.

For her honeymoon trip through the Eastern States, the bride chose a blue tailored dress and her bridal orchids.

Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside in newly-furnished quarters in the Washington Apartments on Alton St.

The rehearsal party was held in the church social rooms the preceding evening.

Linda Pennell, Loudi Novak Wed In Ceremony In Lisbon

MRS. LOUDI NOVAK
Engineering Student's Bride.

LISBON — Wearing a gown of Chantilly lace, Miss Linda Pennell became the bride of Loudi Novak Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. George's Catholic Church.

Fr. William Hohman, pastor, and Fr. Richard Bauchman, pastor of St. Philip Neri Church at Dungannon, officiated at the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, white gladiolus and lighted candles.

Miss Carole Klug was organist and Miss Betty McKenna sang "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Ave Maria."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Courtney Pennell. Her gown was fashioned with molded bodice, a Sabrina neckline highlighted with opalescent sequins and seed pearls and with long, tapered sleeves.

Tiers of scalloped lace enhanced the floor-length bouffant skirt which cascaded to a chapel sweep. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held in place with a coronet of opalescent sequins and seed pearls to match the gown. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses entwined with a white pearl rosary.

Miss Susan Steffel of Salem was maid of honor and Misses Katherine Bailey of Leetonia and Donna Lottman of Salem were bridesmaids.

The attendants were attired in silk organza dresses, the maid of honor in blue and the maids in peony. The molded bodice featured a scoop neckline and a perky bow at the waist. Four billowy tiers fashioned their ballerina-length skirts. They wore matching pearl crowns.

Kathy Hepler of Minerva, the bride's niece, was flower girl and was dressed in pale blue nylon with a floral crown. Charles Oshaben of Cleveland, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

George Kasko of Lisbon was best man and ushers were George Chmielewski of Poland and Dave Eoleson of Warren.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Betty Born, chose a blue dacron dress with white accessories and the bridegrooms mother, Mrs. Andy Novak of West Point, wore blue lace with Navy accessories. Each had white carnation corsages.

A buffet-style wedding breakfast for 100 followed on the lawn of the home of the bridegroom's mother.

A reception was held at 5 o'clock for some 300 at the St. George Parish Hall. The buffet table was laid in white linen centered with a floral arrangement of pink and white gladiolus, candles and silver.

The three-tier wedding cake with white swans between was topped with a miniature bridal pair. Miss Rose Scullion of Salem, the bride's god-mother, served the cake and Misses Sandra Novak and Eloise Belaney presided at the punch bowl.

Aides were Mrs. Crea Novak, Mrs. Mary Delanis, Mrs. Sue Belaney and Mrs. Helen Oshaben. Joey Novak, a nephew, registered guests from Warren, Columbiana, Cleveland, Canton, Minerva, Leetonia, Poland, Salem, Milwaukee, Sharon, Wellsville, Hanoverton, Alliance, Berlin Center, Lisbon and England.

For her honeymoon to Cape Cod, Mass., the bride wore a pale yellow sheath dress with brocade jacket and beige accessories.

The bride, a 1957 graduate of David Anderson High School, is employed with the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in Salem.

Her husband, a 1956 graduate, attended Alma College in Michigan for a year and is now in his third year at Youngstown University, majoring in engineering.

Following the rehearsal Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Pennell, 74 North St., entertained for a buffet lunch for 20 guests of the wedding party. The bride gave her attendants iridescent crystal necklaces and earrings and the men received cuff links.

They will reside in Salem.

Mitchell Defends President

Labor Chief Hits AFL-CIO Group For Attack On Ike

By The Associated Press

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says the AFL-CIO Executive Council has made an unfair political attack on President Eisenhower.

The council had charged Eisenhower with making a "transparent political maneuver" by sending a long list of legislative chores to Capitol Hill at the opening of the post-convention session of Congress.

Mitchell told a Chicago news conference the President "assiduously refrained from playing politics and limited his recommendation for legislative action at this session to proposals he has long and repeatedly urged upon Congress."

While Mitchell was meeting with newsmen "to set the record straight," as he put it, Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon was announcing plans to issue a series of papers outlining his thinking in depth on key campaign issues. He said the first one may be issued Thursday.

Nixon aides said the first paper probably will set forth his thinking on communism as a philosophy, the second on strategy for cold war victory and the third on farm policy.

The vice president carries his campaign to the South tonight with a speech at Greensboro, N.C.

Nixon's Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, presented some of his views on America's national purposes in an article written for this week's issue of Life magazine.

Kennedy said "The task that lies ahead is not to create a new national purpose, but to try to recapture the old one. This is no call to retrogression, for this purpose, born 184 years ago (in 1776), will be as noble and as fresh 184 years hence—and beyond."

Kennedy said Tuesday he was bothered with sinus trouble and was limiting his speaking "to the essentials."

Both Kennedy and Nixon have accepted invitations to address the American Legion's national convention in Miami Beach in October. Kennedy tentatively is scheduled to speak Oct. 19, Nixon Oct. 20.

Rules Group Head Disclaims Intention To Block Legislation

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Rules Committee disclaimed today any intention of using his position to block major legislation during the current session of Congress.

"I am available," Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va) told a reporter. "No one has asked for a meeting."

Without a meeting of Smith's 12-man committee, several of the most controversial legislative matters of the session cannot be disposed of. The committee of eight Democrats and four Republicans controls the flow of legislation to the House floor.

Currently the committee is blocking action on a school aid bill and a housing measure. Both the Senate and the House have passed school bills, but in different form. A conference committee cannot work out a compromise until the Rules Committee gives the go-ahead.

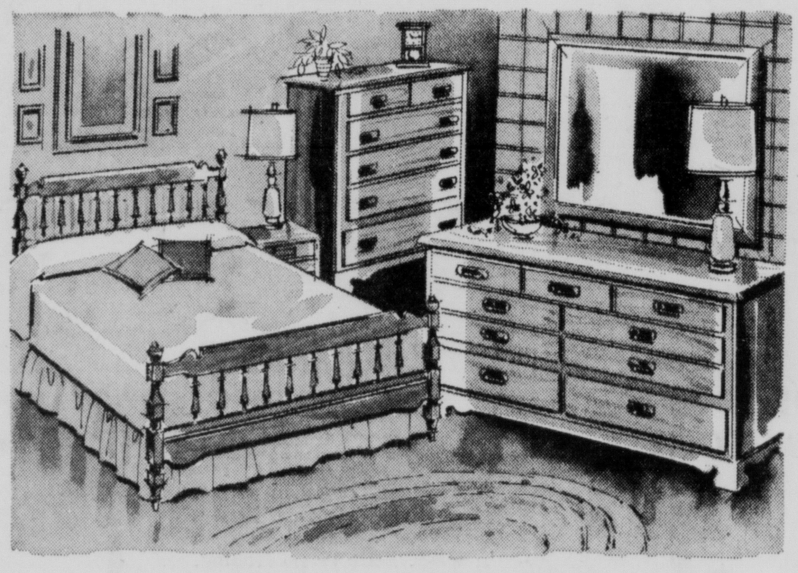

The last time the committee considered letting the school aid bill go to conference, a 6-6 tie vote stopped it, with all four Republicans opposing the conference clearance.

The housing bill hasn't reached the House floor because the Rules Committee has refused to clear it. The bill may be abandoned.

Some final action on the school bill is almost certain, since both political party platforms have endorsed some form of aid to education.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: If I didn't have a small child who needs me I would take my life. Please tell me how to face the future.

I've been married eight years to a man I worshiped. I thought he was a saint. Bud and I were very close until our daughter was born, then he seemed to drift away slowly.

One night I insisted he tell me what was wrong. He confessed he had been involved with another woman for over a year. He swore the affair had been over for months and he was relieved.

My whole world fell apart. I left him the next day. He came after me, begged me to forgive him and we went to church together and promised to build a new life together.

It's been three months and I can't forgive him for cheating, lying and ruining my life. I won't let him come near me. I keep thinking the other woman should be made to suffer as I have suffered.

I've even thought of going to her husband and telling him but I'm afraid of what he might do to Bud. I'm the most miserable woman in the world. Please tell me what do do. — COMPLETELY LOST.

Dear Lost: Find yourself before you lose your husband forever. How much longer do you think he's going to stay on his knees and grovel at your feet begging for forgiveness?

So — Bud was unfaithful. It was a terrible thing he did, but it's finished and done with and there isn't one solitary thing you can do now but forget it.

My advise to grow up and start to live in the present before you shove that ex-saint right into another pair of ever-lovin' arms —for keeps.

Mom Too Trusting

Dear Ann: The situation is as follows: Teen-age daughter, 17. Father recently ill — now recuperating. Friends who own a resort have invited my husband and me to spend several days with them. The crux of the problem: Daughter's boy friend is home on furlough — 15 days.

Should we go on the vacation and leave the 17-year-old daughter under the conditions described? She has a brother, 16, who is well behaved. He would be at home with her.

My husband is more prone than I to listen to neighbors and relatives. They say NO. I'm easy-going and feel teen-agers should be trusted. My daughter is begging us to go but I'm leaving it up to you. What is your advice? — TRUSTING MOM.

Dear Trusting Mom: By all means go — BUT don't leave a 16-year-old boy to chaperone his 17-year-old sister.

Get an aunt, uncle, grandparent or an adult sitter to say in in the house.

Such an arrangement does not mean you don't trust your children. It merely means you are not presenting these teen-agers with what might prove to be an irresistible temptation.

Your decision should be unrelated to neighborhood gossip or relatives. It should be decided solely on the basis of what is best for your children.

Crime And Punishment

Dear Ann: Should a sixth grader be spanked? Please hurry your answer. I need to know right away. Thank you. — JACKIE.

-:-

Dear Jackie: What did the sixth grader do? Pleasy hurry YOUR answer. I need to know right away. You're welcome.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Tot Needs Preparation To Attend Kindergarten

Suppose your child is about to enter kindergarten. Eager to go, he may have been talking about it all summer. If has attended a nursery school, or even the nursery department of a church school, he may have some notion of what kindergarten is like and have had good preparation for it.

Garry C. Meyers

Some little children who have not had such experiences may have some doubts, even worries, about going to kindergarten, especially if they have been pretty closely tied to their mothers. Nearly all of these, however, will soon find enjoyment attending kindergarten.

IT WOULD be wonderful if, in the short time before school opens, your child about to enter kindergarten may play with one or several other childen who will be in kindergarten with him. Just to visit with your child in the homes of a few of these children should prove helpful.

Also it would be fine if you and one or two of these other children and their mothers were to walk or drive together to school on the first morning, to meet the teacher.

As a rule, your child will feel more comfortable and less anxious than you do.

How you act, how naturally you leave your child at school, will have most to do with his feeling comfortable away from you.

The teacher may let you stay for some time but usually would prefer that you go back home rather promptly.

When your child returns home, encourage him to tell you of his day's experiences, especially the happy ones.

IT'S FORTUNATE if he can play in the neighborhood for short periods with some of his classmates and grow more independent of you for his amusement.

See that he gets normal outdoor fun, but does not become to weary or excited.

Limit his watching television and keep him from viewing programs of violence. Hold him to a regular, reasonable bedtime hour.

Fine to induce a quiet period or two for him, during which you should read to him and encourage him in quiet self-amusement, especially before his evening meal and bedtime.

My bulletins, "Tot Learning to Be Sociable" and "Self-reliance", may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Figures And Circumstances Involved In Powers Spy Trial

By The Associated Press

These are the principal figures and the circumstances involved in the espionage trial of Francis Gary Powers, American pilot, which begins in Moscow today:

THE COURT HOUSE—The Hall of Columns inside the Soviet Trade Union Building in downtown Moscow. Scene of purge trials in the 1930s under Joseph Stalin and of concerts and exhibitions. Capacity 2,000 seats.

THE COURT—The Military Collegium, one of four branches of the Soviet Supreme Court. Three judges and no jury. The trial is expected to run about three days, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. (Moscow time) daily.

THE DEFENDANT — Francis Gary Powers, 31 today, of Pound, Va. Civilian pilot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Bailed out of his high-altitude U2 observation jet plane over Svardlovsk, some 1,200 miles inside the Soviet Union on May 1. Captured and held incommunicado since.

FAMILY—Barbara Powers, 24, of Milledgeville, Ga., his wife. Oliver W. Powers, 55, shoemaker of Pound, Va., his father. Ida Powers, 54, of Pound, his mother. All are attending the trial as spectators with Soviet permission. Powers' sister, Jessica Hileman of Washington, D.C., left New York Tuesday night for Moscow to attend the trial.

DEFENSE ATTORNEY — Mikhail Ilich Griniov, prominent Moscow lawyer, appointed by the Kremlin. Presiding officer of the Juridical Council, Soviet equivalent of a legal aid society. One of the Soviet prosecutors at the Nuernberg trials of Nazi leaders after World War II.

CHIEF PROSECUTOR — Roman A. Rudenko, also a Soviet prosecutor at the Nuernberg war crimes trials.

THE CHARGE—Espionage, under the Soviet law on "criminal responsibility for crimes against the state." Details are spelled out in a 4,000-word indictment, in which the Kremlin says Powers pleaded guilty to the "substance" of the charge.

THE PENALTY—From 7 years in prison to death by firing squad. Theoretically, leniency could result in expulsion from the Soviet Union.

Deaths and Funerals

Former Mill Employe Dies

Samuel Kurhansky, 1221 Midland-Beaver Rd., Ohio View, a retired steelworker, died suddenly of a heart attack Tuesday about 2:30 p. m. at his home. He was 66.

Born April 24, 1894, in Russia, he lived in the Midland area 32 years. He retired in March as a third helper in the open hearth department of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he worked 32 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jean Kurhansky at home; a son, Norman S. Kurhansky of Vanport, and two sisters in Europe.

Services will be held Saturday morning at 9 at the Presentation Catholic Church at Midland by Fr. Francis E. Paul, pastor. Burial will be in Beaver Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Cannon Funeral Home at Midland after 7:30 tonight.

William Peterson

Services for William F. Peterson, 205 Peterson Rd., Wellsville, will be held Friday afternoon at 2 at the MacLean Funeral Home by the Rev. James E. Hunton, pastor of the East Liverpool First Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery at Wellsville.

He died Tuesday morning at City Hospital, where he was a patient three weeks.

Friends may call at the funeral home at Wellsville tonight and Thursday afternoon and night.

South Korea Rejects Kim As Prime Minister

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's new Parliament today rejected the bid of economist Kim Do-Yun to become prime minister and cleared the way for nomination of his rival, former Vice President John M. Chang.

The House of the newly elected Assembly cast 111 votes for — and 112 against — confirmation of Kim's nomination by President Yun Po-sun. A vote of 114 from the 227-member House was needed to fill the top government post, now invested with the power stripped from ex-President Syngman Rhee.

JOHN D. CLOVIS
Honored By Association.

Chester's Band Director Elected In National Group

John D. Clovis, Chester High School band director for five years, has been elected to the American School Band Directors Association.

Membership in the organization, to which directors are named by invitation of members in the home state, is based upon musicianship and accomplishment.

Clovis, one of seven band directors in West Virginia to enter the ASBDA, is a native of St. Marys, W. Va., and was graduated from Abilene (Tex.) Christian College. He expects to complete his master's degree at Ohio University next year.

Clovis has served as Region I Band president for three years. He is married, and has two daughters. The family resides at 925 Phoenix Ave.

4-H News

Chorus and numbers for the "4-H Showboat" will be rehearsed at a special meeting tonight at 7:30 at the Lisbon Grange Hall, according to Miss Julia Shank, county extension agent in home economics.

Members still are needed in the chorus, especially boys, and all club members who can sing are asked to attend the rehearsal and participate in the program to be given at Junior Fair Day at the County Fair Aug. 23.

A king and queen will be crowned and a 65-member 4-H band will perform during the program beginning at 7 p. m.

Some 300 4-H members and advisors will participate in the Showboat program, sponsored by the Columbiana County 4-H Advisory Council. The crowning will be held about 9 p. m. during halftime of the program. The five winning parade floats will be shown.

All county 4-H girls and boys are selling tickets for the program. A dress rehearsal will be held Friday at 6:30 p. m. at the Lisbon fairgrounds.

In charge of Junior Fair Day are Harold Milliken of Salem R. D. 3, chairman; Mrs. Ruth Frischkorn of Wellsville R. D. 1, drama skits; Mrs. E. L. Seevers of East Rochester R. D. 2, Mrs. Steve Kinzat of Salem R. D. 2 and Mrs. Carl Miller of Leetonia R. D. 1, singing groups; Glen Bartholow of Salem R. D. 3, music, and Mrs. Leo Jenkins of Rogers R. D. 1, publicity.

First Major Test On Wage Measure Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first major test on the minimum wage bill comes in the Senate today with Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief sponsor of the legislation, predicting a victory for his side.

The vote comes on an amendment by Sen. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla) to strike from the measure practically all of its provisions for extending wage-hour law coverage to five million more workers.

The Democratic presidential nominee told newsmen he believed the votes were available to defeat Holland's proposal. Republican sources confirmed this, although many GOP senators are expected to support the Florida senator.

The Kennedy bill would raise the $1 minimum wage to $1.25 in three steps and also bring under the law about five million additional workers.

The bulk of the new coverage would be in large-size retail and service establishments. These are fully exempt now. Most of the opposition to the bill is directed against the coverage provisions.

Holland would eliminate from the bill all coverage of retail stores, hotels, restaurants, laundries and other service establishments. He would leave in sections which would bring under the law 280,000 seamen, local transit employes, fish processing workers and telephone switchboard operators.

After the vote on the Holland proposal, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois planned to call up a substitute for the entire bill.

This would raise the minimum to $1.15 and include new coverage of about three million, he said. The Eisenhower administration has proposed these figures.

The Democrats said they were confident the Dirksen proposal could be defeated.

Girl, Brother Admit $10 Theft At Church

The theft of $10 from the purse of a church secretary has been cleared with the arrest of a young girl and her brother, police reported.

Officers said the pair were arrested in connection with the theft of $10 from the purse of Jean Gulutz, rear 412 Grant St., Monday afternoon while she was working in the office at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The girl was turned over to County Welfare Department authorities.

Ties With Netherlands Severed By Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno today broke diplomatic relations with the Netherlands because the Dutch sent an aircraft carrier to disputed West New Guinea.

Observers generally believed that the break, which had been expected for some time, would be followed up by seizure of such jointly owned interests as the Shell Oil holdings and Unilever's vast plantations. Both are owned by British and Dutch stockholders.

Parliament Confirms New Laotian Regime

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian National Assembly today unanimously confirmed the new government of Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The ratification of the new neutralist Cabinet was by acclamation under the watchful eye of rebel leader Capt. Kong Le, the paratroop officer who engineered the coup last week. That norc the resignation of pro-Western Premier Tiao Somsanith.

Raids

chy gambling equipment was confiscated in the three places.

There was no indication from city officials as to whether they would further investigate Consol's charges.

Twenty-one policemen, some of them off duty, took part in the raid.

One sergeant was overheard to say: "How in the devil can you make an arrest if Paul Revere and the grapevine are ahead of you?"

Mayor Samuel McCormick said he was surprised to hear of the charges made by Consol.

Consol, a city policeman for 32 years, was suspended in March for alleged conduct unbecoming an officer. Following a court order he returned to work for one day on Aug. 5.

The safety director, Andrew Soltis, appealed Consol's return to duty. Consol contends he found evidence of the open city on his 8 p.m.-to4 a.m. patrol when he was restricted to a three-block area.

Consol says he has sworn affidavits affirming his charges.

Strike Against RR Perils U.S. Steel's Plants

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The U.S. Steel Corp. prepared today to shut down five mills in the face of a threatened strike against a railroad serving the plants.

Some 50,000 steelworkers would be idled by a strike.

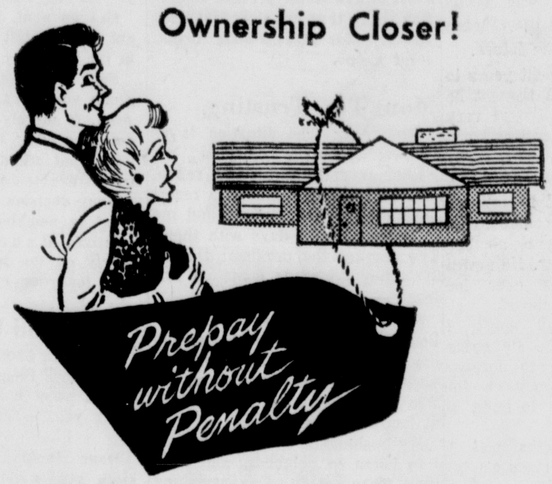

The United Steelworkers Union, representing 1,150 tower operators, clerks and maintenance workers, has served notice it will strike the union railroad Thursday if a contract dispute is not settled.

The railroad hauls raw materials and steel between the company's Duquesne, Homestead, Edgar Thomson, Irvin and Clairton works.

The union reportedly is seeking substantially the same wage and benefit settlement won by basic steelworkers early this year. Their contract provided for an industry average wage of $3.10 an hour.

Care Needed For Shape Of Arms

At this season, it's embarrassingly obvious that arms match the overweight figure. Why do the backs of the upper arms take on flabby fat and sag sadly? For that matter why do arms of normal weights tend to lose their round firmness?

By Ida Jean Kain

Those particular muscles, the triceps, which flank the backs of the upper arms do not get much of a workout in everyday movements. We no longer pump water, beat rugs, or rub-a-dub on the washboard — thank heavens! However, many of our now outmoded taks served to keep upper arms shapely.

Not being used effectively, the triceps tend to lose tone, and toneless muscles are prone to take on fat. Add fat to soft muscles and the tendency toward sagging increases.

THE ONLY REMEDY is to take action. Routinely put into effect all the measures that can help beautify upper arms and you will find the practice surprisingly rewarding. For example, when you take a shower, let the water beat directly on that flabby area for a few seconds, hot and cold.

This helps to stimulate the circulation in those particular spots. Also, rub backs of arms briskly with a rough towel. Better still, keep some salt handy and rub backs of arms with wet salt before you shower or bathe. Coarse salt is the best.

One way to determine the most effective kind of exercise is to know what would happen if a muscle went out of commission. If the triceps were not functioning, you could still lift your arm, but you would be unable to put force behind a punch. So that's a cue.

The familiar pillow - punching routine, thrusting out forcibly with alternate arms, hits the spot. Make this a vigorous movement. . .for the rule is "force behind a blow." If your young son has a punching bag, use it. That will serve the purpose excellently.

Any time you add resistance to exercise, the effectiveness is increased. . .it's a sort of tug-of-muscle. Make your right hand into a fist and place in palm of left hand, holding at chest level.

FORCIBLY p-u-s-h both hands over to one side, then back to the other side. As you push with muscles of one arm, resist with muscles of the other arm. Repeat many times, always working against resistance.

Back to routine movements: When your arms are at your sides, get the knack of keeping the soft part of the elbow toward the body and the backs of the hands forward. Just this slight twist on the triceps has a toning effect.

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Keep Upper Arms Young And Beautiful." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I keep the dog in good condition during the hot summer months?

A. It is a good idea during the hot weather to keep a lump of sulphur in the dog's drinking water. It will cool the blood and help keep him in good condition throughout the summer.

Q. How can I remove scratches from silverware?

A. Purchase a small quantity of putty powder, put it in a saucer and add just enough oilive oil to make a paste. Rub this on the silver with a soft flannel cloth, then polish with a chamois and the scratches will disappear.

Q. How can I make it easier to take medicine?

A. Try placing a bit of alum in the mouth for a moment before taking the medicine, and it will usually overcome any unpleasantness.

Young Intruder Lost, Didn't Know Way Out

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Mrs. William A. Lewis heard someone prowling through her home one night. She demanded, "Who's there?"

Her scream frightened a young intruder, who attempted to flee but couldn't find the way out.

"How do I get out?" he asked.

The woman pointed to the right door and the youth fled.

Differences In Approach

Here's Look At Platforms Of West Virginia Parties

CHARLESTON (AP) — Both Republicans and Democrats will campaign hard this fall on programs to bolster West Virginia's economy — but there apparently will be some basic differences in approach.

The new Democratic platform starts with an economic development plank. And most of its other 14 parts dealing with roads, taxation, natural resources, etc, are aligned to that base.

The much shorter 1960 Republican platform puts major emphasis on a broad natural resources development program, coupled with human and governmental resources planks, in facing up to the state's economic challenge.

BOTH PARTIES want a Department of Natural Resources; reorganization of all agencies now concerned with industrial development into another new department, and a Forest Products Research Laboratory at West Virginia University.

Each has advocated a Human Rights Commission or commissioner. And there are inevitable platform similarities with respect to better schools, teachers' salaries, tax equalization and improved farm market facilities, among others.

But while the GOP offers a terse and different platform approach with its "three-front" natural, human and governmental resources pledges, the Democratic effort is fashioned along more traditional and wordy lines.

The Republicans' roads pledge is three lines. It calls for a "backbone system" as envisioned by Gov. Underwood, to insure "progressive modernization . . . at the rural, secondary and primary levels."

THE DEMOCRATS' road plank runs about 600 words, accusing the GOP of ineffectual planning and other deficiencies over the past four years.

Its seven points run from "re-establishment of proper accounting procedures" to maximum use of federal highway money. The plank promises both an immediate road repair progam and a four-year construction effort.

The also lengthy Democratic pledge on industrial development includes a research program to find new uses for coal. The GOP lists that as part of its natural resources "front," along with oil and agricultural research projects.

The Democrats call for expanded federal expenditures for defense contracts in the state; expanded air transportation; an air pollution study, and an independent economic research and planning center at WVU.

Among its 12 governmental resources points, the GOP promises to "encourage the establishment of new, and expansion of existing, defense industries in our state."

It also pledges an increased and stronger role for the State Temporary Economic Program "to relieve economic hardship and develop our natural resources."

Republican gubernatorial nominee Harold Neely has emphasized he will campaign extensively on STEP, proposed and set up by Underwood's GOP administration with a $4,350,000 appropriation by the Democrat - controlled legislature.

The State Temporary Economic Program," Neely told the recent West Virginia Republican convention here, "is the start of a realistic statewide plan for economic development. . ."

OF THE BIG 1960 appropriation, 3½ million dollars will be spent by the Conservation Department during the fiscal year on state parks, forest and related improvements. STEP, the GOP says, is the best way to draw tourists.

The Democratic platform emphasizes another program set up with $400,000 of the legislative appropriation — area vocational retraining of jobless in new skills. It pledges expansion and acceleration of that program.

The Republican platform, disdaining the usual jabs at the Democrats, accepts in its introduction the "challenge to leadership in these changing times and in this changing state."

The Democrats start by reaffirming confidence their party principles can "restore our state to the position of prestige and respect, prosperity and happiness it has enjoyed in the past under Democratic leadership."

Oh, my aching back!

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation . . . with that restless uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys — tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable ...with restless, sleepless nights . . . don't wait . . . try Doan's Pills . . . get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Back To 'Drip, Drip, Drip'

Turning the set back on after a month of almost total relief from the cumulative idiocy of television I was greeted by: "Rolaids! Each particle consumes 47 times its own weight in excess stomach acid. Result: It slows the drip, drip, drip of stomach acid." It was a wonderfully appropriate welcome back to the drip, drip, drip of television which is almost exactly the same action.

John Crosby

The same evening I watched a couple of hoodlums on "The Untouchables" machine gun a young girl. She was running right at the camera at the time and the hoods machine gunned her in the back so that you got the full action like a blow in the face.

They have wonderfully interesting ways of killing girls on this show. Killing men is kids' stuff. No one does that any more.

I'm indebted to the Saturday Evening Post for the information that the hoods on "The Untouchables" once gunned down 20 prostitutes lined up in a road-bang, bang, bang—like that.

THAT LEADS ME another vagrant thought. I encounter more and more people who tell me they don't look at television but they read about it.

Are we getting to the point where television columnists can't bear to look at television and are forced to read about it in the Saturday Evening Post? Did Pete Martin, who wrote the Post piece, see that incident or did someone else tell him about it? Who looks at bread-and-butter television?

Well, kids do. And, I suppose, people do. But those responsible don't.

Do you really think executives at NBC (which is saddled with the dreadful thing) really looked at the 25th episode of "Riverboat"?

Do you suppose writers, directors, producers or actors look at it?

Do you even suppose the sponsors sit through it?

Don't be silly!

WHEN I FIRST became a radio columnist back in the pre-television days, I found it passing strange that so few people who earned their living in it knew what was on the radio.

Radio columnists rarely listened except perhaps Sunday nights. We are headed back into the same situation for almost the same reason.

In America no responsible people look at television. And by nobody, I mean nobody — no clergy, no press, no advertisers, no network executives, no senators, nobody. Nobody but people.

When you have a vast conglomeration of leaderless people, you have a mob. And when you have a mob, the best place to aim is the groin, which is exactly where most of the high-rated television shows aim.

"THE UNTOUCHABLES" is not only the worst show on television; it is the worst show that was ever on television in its inglorious 14-year history.

It's a national disgrace, that show, and the only reason it hasn't caused any popular outcry is that television has long since been abandoned by decent people to children of all ages.

In its survey of TV columnists and critics, the Fund for the Republic pointed out that, of all the people who wrote about television, the late John Lardner in occasional pieces for the New Yorker was virtually the only person who viewed and wrote about and tried to analyze intelligently the bread-and-butter television (which is to say "Father Knows Best" in its umpteenth year).

LARDNER COULD view the good guys fighting the bad guys with the warm-hearted scientific curiosity of an entomologist looking at an ant hill. But he's, alas, gone.

I'm going to inflict bread-and-butter television on myself these next few months but I can't be detached about it. I get angry.

I have here a letter from a mother that ought to be tattooed on Desi Arnaz' chest for perpetrating "The Untouchables." Says this outraged woman:

"I am trying to teach my children Christian preceipts. I am trying to teach them that violence breeds violence, and that we are distinguished from animals by our faculties of reasoning, and our love of our fellows.

"These things must be repeated over and over and even so it takes years before children truly believe for themselves. TV is systematically drilling into them (1) think only of yourself, (2) never think before you speak, (3) authority—parents, teachers, church, police, any authority — is a dope, (4) in any argument, use a weapon, not your brains, commen sense or respect for others."

THE MOTHER simply is repeating — though she almost certainly isn't aware of it — what George Bernard Shaw said of our movies almost 40 years ago.

In America, Shaw said, the solution to all problems is a punch on the jaw. That fixes everything—a punch on the snoot.

But that was long ago. Now we have the machine gun and those 20 prostitutes on a road. Drip, drip, drip, into the little minds. Hours and hours of violence.

Just a couple of weeks ago, there was a headline: "Juvenile Delinquency Increases by 175 Per Cent." Why not? We teach juvenile delinquency on television. Sponsored.

Ohio Motorists Advised

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Indiana official has advised Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Highway Safety Director J. Grant Keys that Ohioans traveling Indiana highways between now and Labor Day should use extreme care in observing all of the state's traffic laws. Robert J. Fink, chairman of the Indiana governor's traffic safety committee, said that because of the rising traffic toll, Indiana state police are to use "all available resources to assure proper control of traffic to prevent death and injuries."

Slip Of Tongue Made By Teachers' President

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Delegates at the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers convention gasped Tuesday when President Carl Megel of Chicago said:

"Teachers of America are to be condemned."

Then Megel quickly explained, "What I meant to say was, "Teachers of America are to be commended."

James A. Garfield was a lay preacher in the denomination known as "The Disciples of Christ."

Snyder School Dedication Set For Thursday

The Western Beaver County School District's new Ray W. Snyder School on the Fairview-Ohio View Rd. in Industry will be dedicated with a program Thursday at 8 p. m.

H. Curtis Elder, Beaver County superintendent of schools, will speak briefly. Frank A. Meredith, supervising principal, will preside. Others attending will be Daniel C. Baker, chairman of the school authority; James P. McClaskey, Board of Education president, and authority and board members and B. J. McCandless, architect.

Colors will be presented by the color guard of Midland American Legion Post 481. Leo Curto, music supervisor, will direct singing. The Rev. George C. Stannard, pastor of the Fairview Reformed Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation and the Rev. Raymond Piper, pastor of the Industry Evangelical United Bretheran Church, the benediction.

The building will be open for inspection until 10:30 p. m. The new $568,367 school was used partially to help alleviate half-days sessions in the district schools last spring while being completed. Ground was broken in March 1959. A high school is being planned across the road.

In Historical Society

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Joseph Link Jr. of Cincinnati is a new member of the Ohio Historical Society. The governor's office announced his appointment Tuesday to succeed Dr. R. E. Tulloss of Springfield.

Church Given 2 New Flags

A 50-star American flag and a Christian flag were presented to the Georgetown Methodist Church Sunday night.

The American flag, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Todd, was presented by Mrs. Todd, with Frank Todd and Dick McHaffie, veterans, as bearers. The Christian flag, gift of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Welborn, was presented by Mrs. William Durst with Mrs. Walter Reed and Mrs. Donald McHaffie as bearers.

The WSCS of the Bethel Methodist Church will be in charge of a wiener roast for the congregation and Church School members Thursday night at 7 at the church.

The Willing Workers of the WSCS will meet Sept. 6 with Mrs. Fred Stroud.

Mrs. Sarah Laughlin was hostess to a group Sunday, which included Mr. and Mrs. Kendig Laughlin and sons of East Liverpool, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Walton of Chester, Paul Stewart of Salineville, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Laughlin and daughter of Hookstown and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smith of Brookville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Durst entertained a group Friday for the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Durst and her son-in-law, Paul McGeehan, of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schmidt Jr. and daughter of Aliquippa spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schmidt.

2 Families Will Hold Reunion At Hookstown

The 38th annual reunion of the Swearingen-Strouss families will be held Saturday at the Mill Creek Presbyterian Church on Route 168 near Hookstown.

Dinner will be served at noon. Mrs. Blanche Glenn is social chairman. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Shane will be host and hostess.

Seeks Rate Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Delta Home Telephone Co. has reapplied to the Public Utilities Commission for a $21,306 annual rate increase. The firm, which serves 1,600 customers in Fulton County, submitted the original application earlier this month, then withdrew it for some recalculations.

In America, Shaw said, the solution to all problems is a punch on the jaw. That fixes everything —a punch on the snoot.

But that was long ago. Now we have the machine gun and those 20 prostitutes on a road. Drip, drip, drip, into the little minds. Hours and hours of violence.

Just a couple of weeks ago, there was a headline: "Juvenile Delinquency Increases by 175 Per Cent." Why not? We teach juvenile delinquency on television. Sponsored.

Ohio Motorists Advised

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Indiana official has advised Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Highway Safety Director J. Grant Keys that Ohioans traveling Indiana highways between now and Labor Day should use extreme care in observing all of the state's traffic laws. Robert J. Fink, chairman of the Indiana governor's traffic safety committee, said that because of the rising traffic toll, Indiana state police are to use "all available resources to assure proper control of traffic to prevent death and injuries."

Slip Of Tongue Made By Teachers' President

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Delegates at the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers convention gasped Tuesday when President Carl Megel of Chicago said:

"Teachers of America are to be condemned."

Then Megel quickly explained, "What I meant to say was, "Teachers of America are to be commended."

James A. Garfield was a lay preacher in the denomination known as "The Disciples of Christ."

Snyder School Dedication Set For Thursday

The Western Beaver County School District's new Ray W. Snyder School on the Fairview-Ohio View Rd. in Industry will be dedicated with a program Thursday at 8 p. m.

H. Curtis Elder, Beaver County superintendent of schools, will speak briefly. Frank A. Meredith, supervising principal, will preside. Others attending will be Daniel C. Baker, chairman of the school authority; James P. McClaskey, Board of Education president, and authority and board members and B. J. McCandless, architect.

Colors will be presented by the color guard of Midland American Legion Post 481. Leo Curto, music supervisor, will direct singing. The Rev. George C. Stannard, pastor of the Fairview Reformed Presbyterian Church, will give the invocation and the Rev. Raymond Piper, pastor of the Industry Evangelical United Bretheran Church, the benediction.

The building will be open for inspection until 10:30 p. m. The new $568,367 school was used partially to help alleviate half-days sessions in the district schools last spring while being completed. Ground was broken in March 1959. A high school is being planned across the road.

In Historical Society

Church Given 2 New Flags

A 50-star American flag and a Christian flag were presented to the Georgetown Methodist Church Sunday night.

The American flag, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Todd, was presented by Mrs. Todd, with Frank Todd and Dick McHaffie, veterans, as bearers. The Christian flag, gift of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Welborn, was presented by Mrs. William Durst with Mrs. Walter Reed and Mrs. Donald McHaffie as bearers.

The WSCS of the Bethel Methodist Church will be in charge of a wiener roast for the congregation and Church School members Thursday night at 7 at the church.

The Willing Workers of the WSCS will meet Sept. 6 with Mrs. Fred Stroud.

Mrs. Sarah Laughlin was hostess to a group Sunday, which included Mr. and Mrs. Kendig Laughlin and sons of East Liverpool, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Walton of Chester, Paul Stewart of Salineville, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Laughlin and daughter of Hookstown and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Smith of Brookville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Durst entertained a group Friday for the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Durst and her son-in-law, Paul McGeehan, of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schmidt Jr. and daughter of Aliquippa spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schmidt.

2 Families Will Hold Reunion At Hookstown

The 38th annual reunion of the Swearingen-Strouss families will be held Saturday at the Mill Creek Presbyterian Church on Route 168 near Hookstown.

Dinner will be served at noon. Mrs. Blanche Glenn is social chairman. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Shane will be host and hostess.

Seeks Rate Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Delta Home Telephone Co. has reapplied to the Public Utilities Commission for a $21,306 annual rate increase. The firm, which serves 1,600 customers in Fulton County, submitted the original application earlier this month, then withdrew it for some recalculations.

Steelworkers Give 4 Scholarships

The first four Phillip Murray Scholarships of United Steelworkers Local 1212 at Midland were presented Monday evening to children of union members, fulfilling a dream of Joseph D'Alesio, local president.

Miss Harty, a June graduate of Midland High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Harty, 1122 Ohio Ave., Midland. She will attend the Western Pennsylvania School of Nursing in Pittsburgh.

Killmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Killmeyer, 773 Dear Ln., Rochester, is a graduate of Rochester High School and will study engineering at the University of Cincinnati.

Miss Caffro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Caffro, 1316 Midland-Beaver Rd., Industry, will study nursing at the St. Francis Hospital Nursing School at Pittsburgh. She is a Mt. Gallitzen High School graduate at Baden.

Miss Cronin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Dunn, 1319 Smithfield St., East Liverpool. She will attend Ohio State University and study secondary education with a major in math. She is an East Liverpool High graduate. Parents of all four attended.

D'Alesio told the audience of 50 that he came to this country in 1927 when 14 and his father gave him the choice of staying here and going to school or returning to Italy.

His father explained to him that he had never had the opportunity for an education and wanted Joe to have one. He told him never to let his children do without an education.

Kluz, principal speaker, told the group that "only half an education is dangerous," that freedom brings responsibility and with it discipline.

He said the world may be seen divided as free and not free but also as "stupid and educated."

Mullen was toastmaster and others he introduced included Supt. Ralph H. Jewell of Midland schools and Burgess Eli G. Corak.

Others attending were Raymond Stowitzky, high school guidance director and scholarship co-ordinator; John Shovlin III, steelworker and vice president of the Midland Board of Education, Al Monaco and Steve Luketich, members of the scholarship committee with D'Alesio, chairman. Les Young, another member, was not present. Joe Brown of Monaca, a union staff representative, also was present.

The dinner was held at the Azure Room at Deramo's Restaurant. Fr. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church gave the invocation, and the Rev. J. M. Marbrey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, the benediction.

Registration Set For Kindergarten

Registration will be held next Wednesday for the Midland public school kindergarten which begins Aug. 30 at 1st and 7th St. Schools, Supt. Ralph H. Jewell announced.

Children who will be 5 before Dec. 1 are eligible to attend. Parents must bring birth and vaccination certificates and register at the nearest school.

The registration schedule includes:

1st St.—Midland Heights children from 9 a. m. to noon, and downtown children from 1 to 4 p. m.; 7th St.—children with last names beginning A through L from 9 a. m. to noon, and through Z from 1 to 4 p. m. If necessary, children may be registered at other sessions.

The production of television sets in the United States jumped from 10,000 in 1946 to 7½ million in 1950.

Pittsburgh Trip Slated By Chester Men's Unit

Dr. C. M. Mayberry of East Liverpool led devotions at a meeting of the Men's Fellowship at the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night.

Plans were made to charter a bus for a trip to Pittsburgh next week to see the Ice Capades. Anyone interested may phone Lloyd Mansfield or Harry Lewis.

Plans were discussed to sponsor a wiener roast for the church in the near future. Refreshments were served 15 by Lester Lutton, David Craig, Charles Schleiter and Robert Smith.

The group will meet the first and third Tuesdays instead of monthly and the next is Sept. 6.

Columbiana Firm Low On State Bridge Bid

LISBON — The Earl H. Newell & Sons of Columbiana was the apparent low bidder for replacing a bridge on Pine Lake Rd. on the Columbiana Mahoning County line about 1½ miles west of State Route 45.

The firm bid $23,123 on the project, which the State Highway Department at Columbus had estimated at $28,600. Both counties will pay $7,850 toward the project, which will have federal aid.

Bids on 72 road projects throughout Ohio were opened Tuesday at Columbus by the highway department.

Mullen was toastmaster and others he introduced included Supt. Ralph H. Jewell of Midland schools and Burgess Eli G. Corak.

Others attending were Raymond Stowitzky, high school guidance director and scholarship co-ordinator; John Shovlin III, steelworker and vice president of the Midland Board of Education, Al Monaco and Steve Luketich, members of the scholarship committee with D'Alesio, chairman. Les Young, another member, was not present. Joe Brown of Monaca, a union staff representative, also was present.

The dinner was held at the Azure Room at Deramo's Restaurant. Fr. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church gave the invocation, and the Rev. J. M. Marbrey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, the benediction.

Pittsburgh Trip Slated By Chester Men's Unit

Dr. C. M. Mayberry of East Liverpool led devotions at a meeting of the Men's Fellowship at the Chester Westminster United Presbyterian Church Tuesday night.

Plans were made to charter a bus for a trip to Pittsburgh next week to see the Ice Capades. Anyone interested may phone Lloyd Mansfield or Harry Lewis.

Plans were discussed to sponsor a wiener roast for the church in the near future. Refreshments were served 15 by Lester Lutton, David Craig, Charles Schleiter and Robert Smith.

The group will meet the first and third Tuesdays instead of monthly and the next is Sept. 6.

Columbiana Firm Low On State Bridge Bid

LISBON — The Earl H. Newell & Sons of Columbiana was the apparent low bidder for replacing a bridge on Pine Lake Rd. on the Columbiana Mahoning County line about 1½ miles west of State Route 45.

The firm bid $23,123 on the project, which the State Highway Department at Columbus had estimated at $28,600. Both counties will pay $7,850 toward the project, which will have federal aid.

Bids on 72 road projects throughout Ohio were opened Tuesday at Columbus by the highway department.

100 Cultists Leave Shelter After 42 Days

BENSON, Ariz. (AP) — Pale-faced but happy, more than 100 bomb-haunted cultists who took to underground shelters last month were enjoying sunshine today.

Emerging Tuesday after 42 days in basement refuges, the faithful members of the Full Gospel Assembly were asked by Rev. Richard Meeks, "Did you have a victory this morning?"

"Yes," they shouted. "Praise the Lord!"

Men, women and children of the sect burrowed into their basements in this southeastern Arizona town last July 4 because of what they termed a divine prophecy of world destruction by nuclear war.

"Civil defense is the Noah's Ark of today," said a spokesman. "Like Noah, we can shelter for 40 days and 40 nights."

More than 35 members failed to match the Biblical mark, however, as they left their refuges in ones and twos.

Failure of the prophecy had no visible effect on the sect's enthusiasm or faith. Its pastor, Ann Wiemer, put it this way: "We believe in the Lord and we thought some things were going to happen, but they didn't."

Humphrey Sees No Early Soviet, Red China Split

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today he sees growing friction between the Soviet Union and Red China, but no likelihood of any early split between them.

In a prepared Senate speech Humphrey said all this must be considered in shaping this country's foreign policy. He is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The Senator said bonds between the Soviet Union and Red China are much stronger than their differences born of long-standing mistrust, prestige rivalry, population pressures and troubles over interpreting the Communist party line.

"It would be wishful thinking to conclude that the two Communist giants are going to split any day," Humphrey continued. "Nevertheless, it would also be foolish to ignore the fact that tensions do exist and that they seem to be increasing rather than diminishing."

To Attend Rotary Event

WEIRTON — Ed Hartman, past governor of Rotary International District 753, will attend a meeting Sept. 10 in the office of Elvis J. Stahr, president of West Virginia University, to name the Foundation Fellow for the district. The committee will select one candidate for the educational fellowship.

UAW Ratifies New Pact With Goodyear

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A new two-year contract with the Goodyear Aircraft Corp. was ratified Tuesday by members of United Auto Workers Local 856. The pact, affecting 2,300 workers, provides a wage increase of 9½ cents an hour, retroactive to Aug. 15. Also provided is an additional half-cent hourly boost to be distributed over certain classifications to correct inequities.

Ratification means the workers will return to their jobs, ending a strike that started Saturday.

The real name of Marshal Tito, president of Yugoslavia, is Josip Broz.

Nine Escape Injury In Lake Boat Mishap

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Nine persons escaped injury Tuesday night when they were dumped into Lake Erie twice from a 16-foot cruiser. Two men—Mr. William Finley, of North Ridgeville, and Mr. John Elkins, of Elyria—were treated for shock and released.

John Cutter, commander of the Coast Guard auxiliary here, said waves overturned the boat just west of the mouth of Beaver Creek. The cruiser righted itself and when all the passengers tried to climb into it on the same side the boat capsized again, he added.

About 10 per cent of the body of a normal person is fat.

Artificial Insemination Use Widespread In U.S., Britain

By The Associated Press

Some 100 babies are born in England each year—the result of artificial insemination with the seed of a donor from outside the marriage, reports Lancet, a British medical journal.

The practice apparently has doubled in England in the past ten years and in the United States apparently is still more widespread, the report states.

It is invoked in childless marriages where the husband is sterile or suffers from some hereditary disease that would endanger the life of children. The British report suggested laws should cover such cases.

A special committee did not favor the practice for unmarried women, widows or separated marriages, nor for married women without the consent of the husband. The children of such cases should be considered legitimate by the law, the committee said.

Aspirin Danger

British researchers find a danger of anemia for some sufferers of rheumatoid arthritis who rely on aspirin for treatment. Aspirin has serious and unpredictable disadvantages in a minority of cases says a British Medical Journal report.

Small amounts of blood are lost through bleeding in the stomach and intestines by some persons showing that anemia is sometimes due to aspirin sensitivity, the researchers from London's Hammersmith Hospital indicate.

Aspirin Help

Aspirin may be an inexpensive aid in relieving symptoms of diabetes and in lowering blood cholesterol, reports an article in the New Physician, journal of the Student American Medical Assn.

Taken in frequent doses it spurs the body's hormone system and is known to reduce blood sugar, as well as its common uses in reducing fever and pain.

Pay Now, Pull Later

A prepaid dental care plan for the children of labor union members has been labeled a success by all parties concerned, reports the Journal of the American Dental Assn.

Some 2,300 children of members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union-Pacific Maritime Assn. took part in the plan during the past three years.

The Oregon State Dental Assn. operated the plan for the union. Dentists were apprehensive at first. But in a poll, they indicate that the plan is a great success, and should be broadened and extended to other unions.

Annual City Hall Picnic Will Be Held Aug. 24

The annual City Hall picnic for employes, families and guests will be held Wednesday, Aug. 24, at the Disabled American Veterans' summer camp at West Point.

The building will close at noon next Wednesday to allow employes to attend, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said.

Women employes are in charge of the affair headed by Miss Roberta Smith, chief clerk in the water department.

The picnic will begin in the afternoon with games and diversions. Supper will be served about 5.

THE KING OF BEEF ROASTS

★ More Good Meat For Your Dollar At Loblaws

Loblaw RIB ROASTS are 7 inch cut — the short ribs are removed and sold at a much lower price, never included as part of the roast. For easier carving the "feather bones" are closely cut under and retied. The chine bone (back bone) is sawed through and gristle removed — the "spur" bone is also removed. That's what we mean when we say "MORE GOOD MEAT FOR YOUR DOLLAR AT LOBLAWS."

Wanda Evans Of Near Lisbon And J. E. Chapman Jr. Wed

Miss Wanda Kay Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hughie P. Evans of Lisbon R. D. 3, became the bride of Joseph Edgar Chapman Jr. Aug. 13 at the Lisbon Methodist Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Chapman, 121 Harrison St., Lisbon.

The Rev. William L. Brown officiated at the double-ring ceremony held on the 18th birthday anniversary of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of white eyelet embroidery and carried a bouquet of white baby chrysanthemums.

Sister Is Attendant

Miss Betty Evans, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an embroidered bouffant gown of blush pink. Miss Andrea Miller, bridesmaid, also wore a pink gown. Both carried bouquets of harmonizing colors.

Ronald Finch of Lisbon was best man. The mother of the bride wore a two-piece suit of Navy blue and white, and the mother of the bridegroom wore a lavender suit. Both wore carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party was feted at the home of the bridegroom, after which the newlyweds left for a brief honeymoon.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Beaver Local High School. Her husband is a graduate of David Anderson High School at Lisbon.

They will reside with his parents until he leaves for service in the armed forces.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. James Pendry of N. Jefferson St. have announced the engagement of Miss Mary Helen Lippincott to Ray E. Dixon Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Dixon of E. Washington St.

Miss Lippincott is the daughter of Mrs. Pendry and the late Russell Lippincott.

Both are graduates of David Anderson High School and the bride-elect is enrolled at Otterbein College at Westerville, majoring in home economics. She is affiliated with Kappa Phi Omega Sorority.

Dixon is a student at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, at present a chemistry major, and is affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Win Prizes At 500

Mrs. Hazel Chidester and Mrs. Mary Hoy won prizes at 500 when Mrs. Maude Burton of Caldwell entertained the Churchhill Cackle Club Monday night.

Mrs. Esther DeTemple was a guest. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Lydia Benton of N. Market St. will receive the club Sept. 19.

The Monday Night Social Group enjoyed an outing instead of a meeting with miniature golf at the Columbiana course and lunch at the Howard Johnson Restaurant in Youngstown.

Plans are tentative for Aug. 29.

West Virginia Looks Into Oil Leakage Here

The West Virginia Water Resources Board is conducting an informal investigation of oil leakage at a River Rd. barge terminal July 26, which caused a number of complaints down the Ohio River afterward.

Jack Nichols of Huntington, representative of the board, visited here Tuesday to check on details of how the oil leaked from a barge, causing a scum on the river. Nichols said the board has received "a flood of complaints", mostly from private boat owners. Many were from the Wheeling area.

Nichols was to confer with Safety Service Director Lee Copenhaver about the city's investigation of the leakage.

Family Escapes Fire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The hunger-pang cries of 18-month-old May Emma Jackson early Tuesday may have saved the lives of her entire family—mother, father and month-old brother. When her cries woke her father, William Jackson, he found their kitchen in flames. He got the family out safely, but the origin of the fire remains a mystery.

Union To Elect 11 Delegates

Steelworkers Local 1212 of the Crucible Steel Co. will elect 11 as delegates to the 10th constitutional convention of the union Sept. 19-23 at Atlantic City. Ballots must be in by Friday at 5 p. m. at the union hall in Midland.

The balloting will be held from 6:30 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sept. 1. Joseph D'Alesio, local president, will attend as the 12th delegate.

The regular membership meeting, scheduled for Thursday evening, will be held next Wednesday evening, the union office said. Officers are attending a union school at Beaver Falls through Tuesday.

Some 13 area members of Local 1212 were among more than 550 who enrolled this summer in union institutes at Pennsylvania State University.

Sponsored by the union and the Department of Labor Education at the university, five institutes, each one week, were held the past five weeks.

The subjects are covered in a four-year plan. Some 57 were enrolled in a one-week program also this summer to prepare staff representatives.

Attending the institutes were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kleich, Ray Ridgon and Vernal Phillips, all of East Liverpool; Joseph Scheibner of Calcutta, D'Alesio, Steve Luketich, Alfred Monaco, Clarence Sinneway, John F. Phillips, Alphonso Lona and Frank Aloi, all of Midland, and Walter Ewing of New Brighton.

Dear friends,

Visitors are always welcome at our Funeral Home. It is natural, perhaps, that the average citizen does not seek information about funeral costs and plans until the need arises. Yet we think it is much better to be informed before decisions have to be made.

Any information you may desire as to our prices, merchandise or methods will gladly be given at any time.

Respectfully,

Harry L. Martin

Ellwood City Girl Becomes Bride Of Hookstown Resident

Miss Mary Lou Watterson of Ellwood City became the bride of Harry Oliver Doughty of Hookstown Saturday evening, Aug. 6, in the First Methodist Church at Ellwood City.

The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Martin S. Longenecker, pastor, and the Rev. David Haines, pastor of a Presbyterian Church in McKeesport.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Watterson of Ellwood City and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lila Steele of Hookstown.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor-length gown of lace over taffeta. The tight bodice had a high neckline and formed a V at the waist. Her full skirt had tiers of lace in front, giving an apron effect.

A waist-length veil trimmed with lace flowers fell from her small crown of sequins. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations, ivy and stephanotis.

Miss Norma Vinroe was the maid of honor. Her floor - length gown of green lace had a tiered skirt. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a bouquet similar to that of the bride's but with green carnations.

Miss Barbara Hardy and Miss Anna Mae Streckeisen, both of Ellwood City, were bridesmaids and wore outfits like that of the maid of honor but in pink. They carried pink bouquets.

Jack Board of Hookstown was best man. Ushers were Donald Buzard of Ellwood City, cousin of the bride, and Harry McLaughlin of East Liverpool.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church social room for about 150. Guests were from Greenville, Rimersburg, Glenshaw, New Brighton, Beaver Falls, Georgetown, Hookstown and Chester.

The newlyweds departed for a honeymoon over the Skyline Drive in Virginia and returned last week to reside in an apartment in Ellwood City. The bride is a 1960 graduate of Ellwood City High School and her husband was graduated from South Side High School near Hookstown in 1958.

Miss Patsy Searight of Hookstown returned home Monday from Camp Mizpeh, a Grange camp at Newton Hamilton, Pa., where she and William Smith of Aliquippa were Beaver County representatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benneche and family of Fairfax, Va., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell.

Miss Barbara Anderson and Miss Cynthia Szatowski spent the weekend with Miss Tiny Fosler of Baltimore.

Some 33 members of the Paul Lutton family attended the Yoho reunion Sunday at Brady's Run Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John Welch and son, James, and daughter, Susan, returned home Monday evening after spending a week touring Michigan and Northern Canada.

50 At Outdoor Event Of Midland Kaycees

About 50 attended an outdoor recreational meeting of the Midland Knights of Columbus Council 2005 Monday night at the Lions Club pavilion.

Larry Cuccaro, lecturer, was in charge, assisted by Ted Kovalesky, Leo Curto, Louis Zigerelli and William Verzilli. Anthony Martell is grand knight.

Because of the Labor Day holiday Sept. 5, the next meeting will be Sept. 12 at the K.C. hall.

Window Injures Wellsville Woman

A Wellsville woman hurt on a window and a Smiths Ferry man cut on a jar were admitted Tuesday to City Hospital. Three youngsters were treated after separate mishaps.

Mrs. Tomasina Vescio, 400 15th St., is in "good" condition with a laceration and injuries of a middle finger suffered when a window closed on her right hand.

Robert Powell, 36, of Smiths Ferry is in "good" condition with a laceration of the left upper arm received on a glass jar at home.

Michael Adkins, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roma Adkins, 308 Gardendale Ave., suffered a cut of the left hand on a washing machine wringer at home.

Phyllis McManus, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McManus of Gilson Ave., was treated for a laceration of the scalp received in a fall at play.

Rex Waugaman, 10, of Kittanning, suffered a dog bite of the right leg while at the Free Methodist Camp at Dixonville.

Road Striper Obtained By St. Clair Township

Delivery of a new road striper machine for St. Clair Township is expected this week by township trustees who have tentatively authorized purchase of the center line equipment.

The $955 machine is due from the Belding Highway Equipment Co. of Canton. Payments will be made in three installments.

At a meeting Monday night, the trustees took under advisement a complaint from some residents concerning the deputizing of a man during last week's police hunt for Thomas Merical of Beaver County, who was pursued through the township after he fled Pennsylvania authorities.

Pirates Sweep Phillies, 11-2, 4-3, To Grab 7½-Game Lead

Braves, Dodgers, Giants Post Wins

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitching, hitting and bunts. Add 'em up and they give the Pittsburgh Pirates a bulging, 7½-game lead in the National League pennant race.

The battling Bucs rolled to the biggest lead of the season in the majors by sweeping a doubleheader from Philadelphia, 11-2 and 4-3, Tuesday night, while Milwaukee replaced skidding St. Louis in second place. The sweep gave the Pirates five victories in their last six games.

Right-hander Bob Friend, backed by 15 hits, won his 13th in the opener. He allowed seven hits, but walked just one man and put down 17 in a row from the second to the eighth innings.

In the nightcap, Joe Gibbon and winning reliever Roy Face gave up just five hits between them while the Bucs collected a tie-breaking run on a walk in the eighth inning. Three consecutive bunts, by Dick Groat, Bob Skinner and Rocky Nelson, loaded the bases and upset loser Robin Roberts, who then walked Roberto Clemente, It was the only pass Roberts allowed, and gave Clemente five RBI for the night.

Milwaukee moved up as Hank Aaron drove in both runs and Warren Spahn gained his 281st victory in a 2-1 decision at Cincinnati. The Cardinals, with four boots giving San Francisco four unearned runs, lost their fifth in a row, 7-3. Fourth-place Los Angeles defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-5 in 11 innings.

In the American League, the New York Yankees kept a half-game edge as Whitey Ford, working with two days rest at his own request, beat Baltimore with his second straight three-hit, 1-0 decision. The second-place Chicago White Sox scored two unearned runs in the eighth and defeated Detroit 3-2. Cleveland beat Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings. Washington smashed Boston 8-5.

The Pirates won the opener with a five-run first inning against Jim Owens (3-11). Clemente and Skinner each drove in three runs in the first game.

Bill Virdon's triple and an error brought the Bucs from behind with two runs in the third inning of the nightcap. The Phils made it 3-2 in the fourth, but Skinner doubled and Clemente singled him home to square it again in the sixth. Face (7-6) put it away with two innings of hitless relief.

Mrs. Patterson Wins Honors In Ladies Tourney

Mrs. Robert Patterson carded a 49-43—92 to win low gross honors in the Ladies' Day 18-hole, 3-hole throwout tournament Tuesday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Mrs. C. A. Gerace and Miss Barbara Beatty divided laurels for low net. Mrs. Gerace's card showed 108-10-35—63 and Miss Beatty's 95-10-21—63.

The putting prize was won by Mrs. R. E. Moninger with 32.

In the second division 9-hole, 2-hole throwout event, Mrs. W. J. Horger's 54 was the winner for low gross while the low net award went to Mrs. J. D. Thompson who carded 56-8-25—23.

Mrs. W. E. Dunlap and Mrs. Horger each had 17 putts.

Club Pro Andy Petrick announced a junior boys and girls tournament for those 15 and under will be held Thursday and Friday mornings. It will be an 18-hole medal play event.

NBC Seeks Spot In International Basketball Assn.

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — The National Basketball Committee (NBC) will apply for United States membership in the Federation of International Basketball Assn. in Rome Aug. 24.

If the application is accepted, the NBC would replace the Amateur Athletic Union as the U. S. member of the FIBA, John W. Bunn, editor for the NBC, said today. The NBC is primarily an organization for establishing rules for amateur basketball in the United States and Canada. Member organizations include the NCAA, AAU, YMCA and high school associations.

Ed Steitz, athletic director at Springfield (Mass.) College will represent the NBC at the FIBA meeting.

The application climaxes action begun by the National Assn. Basketball Coaches last March at San Francisco, Bunn said.

At that time the coaches reviewed negotiations involving a Swedish basketball team that planned to tour the United States. The tour was canceled because the AAU refused to sanction some of its appearances.

Bunn said the coaches found that their review of the negotiations between the Swedes and AAU revealed much confusion and contradiction.

The coaches adopted a resolution then asking the AAU to take steps "to disassociate the colleges from the AAU in connection with the administration of amateur basketball in this country," Bunn said.

Stanton Local Gridders Due Physicals Tonight

IRONDALE — Physical examinations will be given all football candidates by Dr. W. S. Banfield tonight at 7 in Stanton Local High School, Supt. C. P. Henderson announced today.

Grid equipment will be issued to candidates for the varsity Thursday night at 7 in the high school, he added.

Coach Fred Sims will send his squad through the first practice session Friday morning at 8:30 at Memorial Field.

Rochester Whips Jersey City In 2 To Hold 4th Spot

By The Associated Press

The Rochester Red Wings won't give up fourth place—the final International League playoff spot—without a fight.

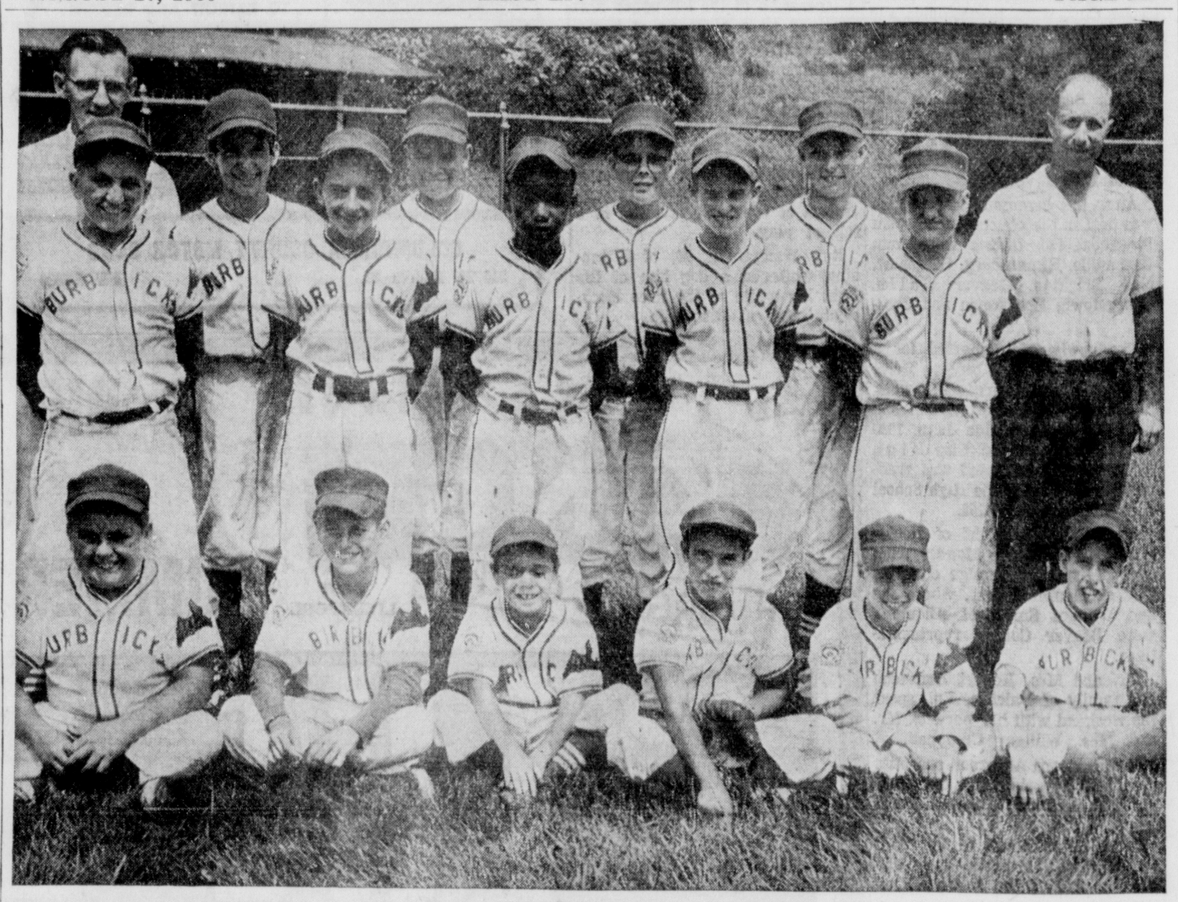

The fifth-place Jersey City Reds had narrowed their margin to three games with a doubleheader sweep Monday night but saw it revert to five games again Tuesday night after the Wings swept a twin bill, 9-6 and 6-5.

In other IL games, Columbus defeated Montreal 10-7 while front-running Toronto walloped Richmond 11-2. Buffalo and Miami were rained out.

Tom Burgess smashed two homers, his 12th and 13th, and drove in five runs to lead the Jets. His first smash sparked a five-run fourth and wiped out Montreal's 5-1 lead. His second came with two on.

Ford's 3-Hitter Sinks Orioles, 1-0; White Sox Nip Tigers, Trail ½ Game

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

First Mickey Mantle, now Whitey Ford. The New York Yankees, long a bunch of marauders who struck en masse against the challengers, have come battling back in the American League race on two fine one-man performances.

The Yanks looked about as bad as any pennant contender can look when they were plunked out of first place by a doubleheader loss to Washington Sunday. Mantle was yanked out of the second game for failing to run out a ground ball.

Mantle, pricked by pride, put 'em back on top with a pair of two-run homers that beat Baltimore 4-3 Monday night.

Ford kept them there Tuesday. Working with just two days rest at his own request, the scrappy southpaw came through with his second straight three-hit, 1-0 decision as the Yankees swept the two-game series and dropped the Orioles from first to third.

Ford's performance, backed by a hit batter and singles by Yogi Berra and Johnny Blanchard for a fourth-inning run, kept the Yankees a half-game ahead of the Chicago White Sox. The defending champs defeated Detroit 3-2 with two unearned runs in the eighth inning. Cleveland beat Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings, and Washington rapped Boston 8-5.

In the National League, Pittsburgh swept two from Philadelphia 11-2 and 4-3, for a 7½-game bulge over Milwaukee. The Braves took second place by beating Cincinnati 2-1, while San Francisco dropped St. Louis to third with a 7-3 decision. Los Angeles beat Chicago's Cubs 7-5 in 11 innings.

Ford, who beat Washington 1-0 Saturday, took some of the pressure off the Yankees' strained pitching staff with his quick comeback. He gave up a leadoff double by Jackie Brandt, then outdueled Chucl Estrada (13-7) by allowing only a fourth-inning single by Gene Woodling and an infield hit by Ron Hansen in the seventh.

A double steal by Jim Landis, who had singled, and Nellie Fox, who beat out a bunt, set up the winning eighth for the White Sox, drawing a bad throw by Tiger catcher Harry Chiti. Al Smith's 11th home run had given the Sox a 1-all tie in the second against loser Jim Bunning (7-9). Frank Baumann (8-5) was the winner.

Tito Francona homered for the Tribe's first two runs, then lined a bases-loaded single for the clincher in the 10th off Ken Johnson (3-7). Reliever Don Newcombe, one-time National League ace, won his first in the AL, after giving up a tying, ninth-inning home run by Dick Williams.

The Senators blew a 2-0 lead, then scrapped back and broke a 2-2 tie on home runs by winning pitcher Pete Ramos (9-13) and Billy Consolo in a three-run eighth.

East Enders Move To Softball Finals

East End Merchants advanced to the championship round of the City Softball League playoffs Tuesday night by "scorching" Patterson-Wetzel Cleaners, 6-0.

Gene Talbott tossed a two-hitter for East End in winning his seventh game in eight starts and his fourth shutout of the season.

Playoff action continues tonight with Midland meeting Studen's Construction at 6:15 at the Patterson Foundry field.

AVP meets the winner of tonight's game on Thursday. The finals Friday will pit East End against Thursday night's winner.

Bowlers Set Meeting

All captains of the Little League Bowling Team are to meet tonight at 7:30 in the Elks Lodge 258 to organize for the winter season, Robert Smith, secretary, announced today.

U. S. Swimmers Eye Olympic Top

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — American youth and depth may return Olympic Games swimming supremacy to the United States after a titanic struggle with the reigning Australians and improving Japanese. This is one of the major sports in which the powerful Russians are completely overshadowed.

A survey of past and recent performances shows that the United States has a chance to win seven of the 10 men's swimming and diving gold medals and six of the women's nine events. The Yanks won five in 1956.

Swimming will be the first major sport to be contested at the coming games. The opening ceremonies are Aug. 25 and swimming takes over the main stage in the morning of the next day. The tank frolics will be concluded on Saturday night, Sept. 3.

Australia, dominant in the 1956 games at home, could wind up with just four gold medals compared to eight won at Melbourne. The Australian men, headed by triple gold medalist Murray Rose, swept the boards in the freestyle and captured the backstroke for five gold medals four years ago. The women, spearheaded by Dawn Fraser and Lorraine Crapp, took three titles in the freestyle.

Japan, improving year by year and striving to regain pre-war honors, has its best hopes for gold medals in breaststroker Yoshihiko Osaki, freestyler Tsuyoshi Yamanaka, silver medalist in the 400 and 1500 in 1956, and female backstroker Satoka Tanaka.

The Germans with world-record breaker Wiltrud Urselmann in the women's breaststroke; the Dutch with a batch of fine female freestrokers, breaststrokers and backstrokers, and the British with freestyler Ian Black and female backstroker Natalie Steward could pick up a few gold medals.

In the overall picture, the Yankees are the favorites in the men's and women's butterfly backstroke, medley relays and both springboard and platform diving and potent threats in the freestyle. The Australians are outstanding, as usual in the freestyle and backstroke.

Dickey Fans 15 As Cox-Merchants Nips Lawrenceville, 7-6

Rivals Clash Again Tonight In Playoffs

Fastballing Jick Dickey struck out 15 batters as Cox - Merchants of East Liverpool triumphed, 7-6, in its first Shaughnessy playoff game of the County-City Baseball League Tuesday night.

The league champions return to action tonight in a second game with Lawrenceville at the East Palestine diamond.

Salem won a forfeit victory over Chippewa last night and is scheduled to oppose Chippewa tonight at the Negley field in the initial best out of three series.

Dickey, the former Ohio Wesleyan righthander, allowed eight hits but was tough when he had to be and went the route at Patterson Field. He walked only three.

Lawrenceville, with Green toeing the rubber, got to Dickey for at least one run in all but the second and third innings but a two-run rally in the seventh fell one short for a narrow defeat.

Cox-Merchants showed a leaky infield in the opening playoff battle with four errors committed by the second baseman, third sacker and shortstop.

Dunlevy slugged two trioles and Myers collected a pair of singles to spark Cox-Merchant's nine hit assault on Green.

Lorin Howard, moving into the leadoff position made vacant by an injury over the weekend to star outfielder Bob Gessford, came through with one hit and scored a run for Cox-Merchants.

Catcher Vic Reed, outfielder Martin, and infielder Hobbs banged two hits each for Lawrenceville. One of Hobbs' blasts was a triple.

Green struck out six in going the distance for Lawrenceville. He walked three over the stretch.

Morrison Takes Over At Fullback For Pro Giants

WINOOSKI PARK, Vt. (AP)—The New York Giants, aiming for a more diversified offense, have a new No. 1 fullback today as they enter their final week of training before setting up quarters closer to New York.

Joe Morrison, in his second year with the National Football League's Eastern Conference champions, will take over the fullback chores according to Coach Jim Lee Howell, after he turned in yeoman work in Monday night's 16-7 exhibition loss to the Chicago Bears in Toronto.

"Morrison played a good game," Howell said. "He has the fullback spot to himself now so we'll go offensively with (Frank) Gifford and (Alex) Webster."

The former University of Cincinnati player spent most of his rookie year spelling the two, and also put in some time in the fullback slot. This year Howell decided to keep him at fullback, behind the veteran Mel Triplett.

But Triplett injured a knee earlier in the training season and has been hobbling around on crutches. He is not expected to resume full-scale work until late this month or sometime next month, depending on how well the knee responds to treatment.

Marion Resigns Post With Houston Buffs

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Marty Marion has resigned as president and director of the Houston Buffs and the Houston club has bought Marion's stock.

W. H. Hopkins, chairman of the Buff's Major League Committee, made the announcement at a press conference Tuesday.

Hopkins said major league sources told him Houston will have a better chance for a major league franchise if the club is owned and operated by Houston area persons.

He said Marion's resignation is effective immediately and the ex-St. Louis Cardinal has already returned to his St. Louis home.

Soviets Seek Control Of Olympic Committee

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP)—An expected Soviet attempt to wrest control of the International Olympic Committee and the probable addition of the freestyle swimming star, Jeff Farrell, to the U.S. medley relay team held the attention of Olympic fans today.

Farrell's eligibility for the medley, virtually assuring the potent Yank tank forces of a gold medal in this new Olympic event, caused more stir among the athletes than the behind-the-scenes maneuvers of the Soviets and their satellites in the political field.

The athletes themsevles couldn't care less about the political side of this Rome Olympic season. The weather was sunny, food was good and plentiful and their quarters excellent.

"This is just like Los Angeles without the smog," commented swimmer Lance Larson from El Monte, Calif.

Farrell, the world's fastest swimmer this year until he underwent an emergency appendectomy just before the American swimming and diving trials at Detroit, Aug. 2-5, found himself in the running for the berth of the medley team.

He must beat Bruce Hunter of Cambridge, Mass., in a swimoff for the freestyle leg of the race which calls for 100 meters each by a backstroker, breaststroker, butterfly man and freestyle.

Farrell, in fine condition now, should win with ease.

In the political field, the Soviets are aiming to elect their own Constantine Andrianov, or another of the Iron Curtani officials, to succeed resigning Avery Brundage of Chicago as president of the International Olympic Committee.

It does not look as if they will succeed. Observers believe England's Lord Burghley, a one-time Olympic hurdling champion, will be chosen as the compromise candidate.

The election is one of the major issues on the agenda of the IOC meeting, opening Friday.

Other topics, which will bring on heated debate and probably little action, include the thorny issue of amateurism, and cutbacks in the ever increasing magnitude of the games.

FIGHT RESULTS

New York (Madison Square Garden) — Denny Moyer, 152¾, Portland, Ore., outpointed Benny (Kid) Paret, 151, Cuba, 10 (nontitle).

Tucson, Ariz. — Don Jordan, 149, Los Angeles, outpointed Julian Valdez, 148, Los Angeles, 10.

San Jose, Calif. — Luis Molina, 139, San Jose, knocked out Art Ramponi, 137¼, Richmond, Calif., 6.

Miami Beach, Fla. — Kenny Lane, 137, Muskegon, Mich., outpointed Douglas Vaillant, 141 Cuba, 10.

Los Angeles — Johnny Smith, 155, Los Angeles, knocked out Tiger Al Williams, 160, Los Angeles, 9.

Moyer Upsets Welter Champ

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Denny Moyer is going to stick around with the welterweights awhile. He wants another shot at the title.

The handsome Portland, Ore., strawberry blond had one chance, but he was only 19 then. He lost to the then-champion Don Jordan in 15 rounds at Portland July 10, 1959.

He was 21 a week ago, and more matured. In fact, Tuesday night he was mature enough to win a split decision over the current champion, Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba, in a 10-round overweight bout at Madison Square Graden.

Paret weighed 151 and Moyer 152¾, possibly the best fighting weight for each man. Moyer had announced it would be his last fight as a welter, that he was moving up to the middleweights. After the fight he changed his mind.

That there is a chance he will get a title shot seems assured. Teddy Brenner, Garden matchmaker, after conferring with manuel Alfara, Paret's manager, said Benny will keep his date for a title defense against Argentina's Federico Thompson here Oct. 15, and if successful will give Moyer a title shot at the Garden next winter.

He earned it in a bout which started out so sadly that the crowd of 4,000 that paid $10,000 at the gate began to boo in the third round. At the end the fans were cheering both fighters, and particularly Moyer.

Freak Single Gives Indians 4-3 Victory

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lady Luck gave the Cleveland Indians an assist Tuesday night and they beat the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3, in 10 innings to hang onto fourth place in the American League by a slim margin.

A freak single by Tito Francona with one out and the bases loaded in the 10th gave the Indians the triumph that kept them one-half game ahead of the fifth-place Washington Senators.

The Tribe ends its home stand with a two-game series with the defending champion Chicago White Sox, starting tonight. Jim Perry (15-5), the league's winningest pitcher, will open for the Indians against Bob Shaw, who has won 11 games and lost 9. Perry has a 1-2 mark against the Sox.

Tuesday night's winning rally started with a leadoff single to deep short by John Temple. With one out and Temple on second, Vic Power was passed purposely. Jim Piersall blooped a single to center field to fill the bases.

Francona's bat split in half as he swung at Ken Johnson's pitch, but the ball took a crazy hop and sailed over second baseman Jerry Lumpe's head as Temple scored the winning run.

Don Newcombe, who hurled the last three innings, was the winner, giving him a 1-1 record since he came to the Indians from Cincinnati a few weeks ago. The loss was the seventh in 10 decisions for Johnson, who relieved starter Dick Hall with one out in the seventh.

The Indians collected 14 hits while Newcombe, Barry Latman and starter Jack Harshman held the Athletics to seven. Three of the Kansas City hits were by Dick Williams, a former Indian, who collected a home run and two singles to extend his batting streak to 14 games.

A home run by Francona over the right field fence after Piersall beat out a bunt gave the Indians a 2-0 lead in the second inning.

After Harshman had pitched five scoreless innings, the Athletics tied it up with two runs in the sixth on a single by Bill Tuttle, a double by Lumpe, a sacrifice fly by Hank Bauer and a single by Williams.

A run in the seventh put the Tribe ahead again. Mike de la Hoz led off with a single, was sacrificed to second by Bob Wilson, went to third on a single by pinch-hitter Bob Hale and scored on a force play at second base. Williams' leadoff homer in the ninth tied the score at 3-3.

Bid To Swim Channel Under Water Given Up

FOLKESTONE, England (AP) Blonde Jane Baldasare of New York had breathing trouble off the French coast today and gave up her attempt to swim the English Channel under water.

Swimming through the depths in a 20-foot-long cage, she got only four miles from her starting point at Cap Gris-Nez before calling the enterprise off.

Dodich Leads Ohio Open

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's professional golfers, upset when amateurs captured the PGA-sponsored state open championship two of the last four years, dominated their own tournament today.

As the Ohio Open wheeled into its final 36-hole round at Snyder Park Golf Club, seven of the play-for-pay contingent were out in front, and the closest amateurs were eight strokes off the pace.

Four of the top five were fresh off the professional tour, coming home to cut themselves a slice of the $4,000 purse, biggest in the tournament's history.

Scores of 146, four over par, for the first two rounds were necessary to get into today's final play, and 49 professionals and 20 amateurs of the original field of 214 made te cutoff.

Pacing the pack was 30-year-old Joe Dodich of Newark, who tacked together scores of 65 and 68 over the 6,052-yard, par 71 course. His nine-under-par total gave him a two-stroke lead over Ab Justice of Warren and Frank Beley of Canton.

Four strokes back were tourist Frank Stranahan of Toledo and teaching professional Earl Tuckett of Barberton. At 138 were Richard Haire and Bob Benning, both of Dayton.

Practically all of the top talent remained in the race, the big casualties being Val Chiaverini of Swanton, a professional who won the state public links championship three times, and amateurs Hoagy Carmichael of Springfield and Edmund Balph of Parma.

Balph, after shooting a 65 and sharing the first round lead, soared to 82 in the second session to miss qualifying by a stroke.

Defending champion Lee Raymond of Toledo was safely in with 142 and other handy qualifiers included professionals Rick Jones of Youngstown, the 1956 national intercollegiate champion; Bob Roll of Greenfield, former state junior champion; Harold Paddock Jr. of Chagrin Falls, former state amateur champion; Bob Ross Jr. of Springfield, also an ex - amateur champ; and George Bellino of Youngstown, former Ohio intercollegiate champion.

The professional winner will receive $800 in cash and the amateur leader $150 in merchandise.

Ock Willoweit of Dayton won the seniors title, based on the first 36 holes, with a 141 score.

Joe Dodich, Newark, 65-68—133

Lou Groza Concerned About His Back Injury

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Lou Groza is concerned about the time it is taking him to recover from a back injury he suffered in training here, but the Cleveland Browns' veteran tackle says he has no intention of retiring.

"If it were disc trouble I'd probably be through," Groza said Tuesday. "This is muscular, though, the X-rays indicated that. So I know it shouldn't be too much longer. No, I don't have any intention of calling it quits."

Groza, the only remaining member of the original Browns squad, explained that he had gone through a long conditioning program before he came to camp. He said he had been bothered by back trouble in the past and wanted to make sure he was sound.

"Lou will battle this thing out all the way," said Coach Paul Brown. "That's the way it's always been with him."

At present Dick Schafrath and Mike McCormack are the regular offensive tackles and rookie Bob Denton is making his bid on the left side behind Schafrath.

Denton, who was with the College All-Stars, has some catching up work to do and may see some action in the exhibition game against the Pittsburgh Steelers Thursday night in Pittsburgh.

Jim Houston, a rookie from Ohio State, is slated to start at left end on defense against the Steelers. Jim Marshall, another ex-Ohio State gridder, will be his running mate on the other end of the line.

Amos Alonzo Stagg Has New Honors At 99

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, his eyesight failing but alert of mind, entered his 99th year today with a bundle of new honors for his contributions to football, a game he still loves.

Stagg, the grid game's No. 1 pioneer, joins President Eisenhower and General of the Army Douglas MacArthur as recipients of the National Football Foundation gold medal. Stagg also learned Tuesday a chair has been set aside in his honor at the new Navy-Marine Corp Memorial Stadiim in Annapolis, Md.

The President, MacArthur, the National Football Foundation, and a host of ex-players and friends saluted the white-haired gentleman at a birthday luncheon.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

The highway kill of raccoon seems to increase each year.

Recently a fellow told me about seeing two young raccoon on Route 172 not far from New Garden. He said he got out of his car and teased them a little bit as they growled back.

The next morning I passed the spot and one lay dead on the road. He thought he should have picked them up for their own protection.

Only one thing wrong about picking them up, the law says no! At least they have every legal right to be left alone and the responsibility of whether they live or die is not the problem of any individual.

ANOTHER WAY to look at it, once a 'coon has been domesticated he is no good. Even though he may be released in the wilds, when he grows up he invariably will head for the nearest farm house and become a chicken killer or a predator to any kind of fowl.

Not only that, but he forgets the hand that fed him when he was young and in 90 per cent of the cases he will sink his fangs into his benefactor's hand, right to the bone if he doesn't happen to be in the mood to be petted.

The best thing to do is let wild animals remain in the wilds and let the law of nature take over "the survival of the fittest".

FEWER DEER have been killed on highways in Columbiana County this year than any year within the last 10 years.

If this means anything, it looks as if deer hunting will be poor this coming season. Acres and acres of land along the old Lisbon-Williamsport Road, leading off at the top of Canton Hill on Route 172, have been laid waste by strip mining operations. Thus, some of the best deer country has been completely destroyed for deer as well as any other animals.

As cruel as nature might be in destroying birds and animals by disease, predation and many other ways, man gives a great big assist by laying waste to so many acres of land, destroying natural habitat for wildlife and at the same time removing valuable land from the tax duplicate. Wonder why your taxes have been increased? It takes a heap of money to operate a state, county or township, and when more money is needed your taxes are increased.

The more land wasted in this county the more taxes will increase on the good land.

There is one tax I don't mind paying and that is the increase in taxes to build needed schools.

An individual property owner should realize that a good school will increase the home valuation of his property if he has children or not. We must have schools.

Cut down on the "wild life", commune more with natures wildlife and the money will be at hand to pay school taxes — and then some.

Train Severs Legs

CLEVELAND (AP)—Milton A. Fox, of Cleveland, lost both legs Tuesday when he slipped and fell beneath the wheels of a freight train he was helping to switch at a grade crossing at the Newburgh & South Shore Railway in Cuyahoga Heights. He was reported in fair condition after doctors amputated both legs below the knees.

Potters Savings & Loan Wins Minor Loop Title

Potters Savings & Loan Co. cashed in on David Pridemore's three-hit pitching to sweep the Little Minor Little League championship Tuesday night at Myler Park.

The "Bankers" took an early lead by scoring five runs in the first three innings and went on to turn back a late rally by E. M. Knowles Co. for a 6-3 triumph in the second game of the best of three playoff series for the title.

Pridemore scattered three hits, struck out 10 and walked only three. In addition, he collected two singles to spark the seven-hit attack of Potters Savings & Loan Co.

The new champs scored three runs in the first and added single counters in the second, third and fifth innings.

Knowles plated one run in the first frame, but came back strong with two in the fifth. The losers committed five errors.

McKenzie toiled for Knowles, yielding seven hits and issuing 10 bases on balls. He struck out three and was charged with the defeat.

The 1960 membership of the Professional Golfers Association of America totals 4,600.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Whitey Ford, Yankee southpaw, working with just two days rest at own request, came through with his second consecutive three-hit, 1-0 victory for series sweep over Orioles.

Hitting—Hobie Landrith, Giants, drove in three runs with four hits, three of them doubles, in five at bats for a 7-3 victory over Cards.

Detectives Hunt Source, Type Of Drugs Administered Girls

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seeking to prove Lillian Fratantonio, 29, was a neglectful mother of her two "sleeping beauty" daughters, detectives today continued searching for the source and type of sleep-inducing drugs administered.

Mrs. Fratantonio faces charges in Juvenile Court that she mistreated Bernadette, 3, and Venita Fratantonio, 5, by feeding barbiturates to them without the authority of a physician. A hearing is scheduled Friday.

Bernadette has been at Mount Sinai Hospital since last September, when she went into sleeping spells lasting 18 to 24 hours. Venita entered the hospital last month, suffering from dizzy spells.

The sudden lapses into long periods of coma baffled doctors. Then it was discovered the girls had been drugged. The mother subsequently admitted to police that she did it.

The day before Mrs. Fratantonio left their bedside to enter St. Ann Hospital to bear her fifth child and third daughter, Antonine, the "sleeping beauties" awoke.

For 10 days the girls have been perfectly normal. Both are in custody of the hospital as wards of the court.

Detectives sought answers to two questions: Where were the drugs obtained? What type of barbiturates were used?

Detective Sgt. Norman Ferris said his men had established that a doctor had prescribed 12 barbiturate tablets for Mrs. Fratantonio in March 1959.

Another possible clue was found in the medicine chest of the Fratantonio home in suburban Cleveland Heights. It was an empty 100-capsule bottle which Deputy Coroner Lester Adelson said bore a manufacturer's label describing that each capsule contained three different barbiturate compounds.

CPA Group Confers On Plans For Telethon

A local delegation of the Columbiana County Affiliate of the Cerebral Palsy Association met with Richard G. Munk at Steubenville Monday night to discuss plans for the coming telethon.

Attending were Lawrence Zollinger, president; Richard Brian, first vice president, and Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, a member of the Executive Board. Munk is president of the Jefferson County association.

The fund-raising event over WSTV is set for Sept. 10-11 at Steubenville and the local group will assist.

The board will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. in the clinic rooms of the Mary Patterson Memorial for a special business. Mrs. G. Richard Jones will report on the meeting of the nominating committee for state staff officers held recently in Columbus.

The profile of George Washington appears on the U.S. Purple Heart Award.

Scenes Of Italy Shown Rotarians

Color slides of a visit to Italy were screened by William A. Harris Jr. at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in the Travelers Hotel.

He flew by jet plane to Paris, then on to Rome, scene of the summer Olympics. The trip included visits to Venice, the Isle of Capri, Naples and other Mediterranean area cities and villages.

The scenes included famous Roman fountains, ruins of the city, St. Peter's Cathedral and square, Pompeii's ruins, Vatican City and other tourist attractions.

He was introduced by George Hargraves, president. Hargraves announced the club's annual picnic will be held Aug. 30 at 6 p. m. at the YMCA Camp at Pine Ridge. Because of the outing, the noon luncheon that day will not be held.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove old water paint from a concrete wall?

A. Dissolve one pound of trisodium phosphate in one gallon of hot water. Apply this solution very liberally, soaking the walls thoroughly. Then scrub with a stiff wire brush, removing all the paint from the crevices and cracks.

Q. How can I get better results when baking with yeast?

A. Put the yeast into a little warm water and add a teaspoon of sugar and let develop a while in the water before adding to the dough mixture. This will cause the dough to rise more quickly and easily, and give the bread a better rexture.

Q. How can I clean the soiled leaves of house plants?

A. By applying equal parts of milk and warm water. Use a sponge, and rub gently to prevent breaking the leaves.

The bison is the largest wild animal that is native to the U. S. It has an average weight of 1,800 pounds.

Color slides of a visit to Italy were screened by William A. Harris Jr. at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in the Travelers Hotel.

He flew by jet plane to Paris, then on to Rome, scene of the summer Olympics. The trip included visits to Venice, the Isle of Capri, Naples and other Mediterranean area cities and villages.

The scenes included famous Roman fountains, ruins of the city, St. Peter's Cathedral and square, Pompeii's ruins, Vatican City and other tourist attractions.

He was introduced by George Hargraves, president. Hargraves announced the club's annual picnic will be held Aug. 30 at 6 p. m. at the YMCA Camp at Pine Ridge. Because of the outing, the noon luncheon that day will not be held.

Kiwanians At Lisbon To Hear Tire Official

LISBON — Earl R. Brooks of the Youngstown Safety Tire Co. will be guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday Noon at the Eagle's home.

The club will send four delegates to the Ohio District convention Sept. 18-21. Lieutenant Governor G. V. Weinstock will be a delegate-at-large and O. Dail Mason, R. Dale Miller and Adam Rudibaugh delegates. Alternates will be Charles Faust and Kenneth Hiscox.

Officers will be elected by the club Sept., 1, according to William Wright Jr., president.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove old water paint from a concrete wall?

A. Dissolve one pound of trisodium phosphate in one gallon of hot water. Apply this solution very liberally, soaking the walls thoroughly. Then scrub with a stiff wire brush, removing all the paint from the crevices and cracks.

Q. How can I get better results when baking with yeast?

A. Put the yeast into a little warm water and add a teaspoon of sugar and let develop a while in the water before adding to the dough mixture. This will cause the dough to rise more quickly and easily, and give the bread a better rexture.

Q. How can I clean the soiled leaves of house plants?

A. By applying equal parts of milk and warm water. Use a sponge, and rub gently to prevent breaking the leaves.

LEGAL NOTICE

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Auditor of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio, until 12:00 o'clock noon Eastern Daylight Saving Time of September 2, 1960, for the purchase of bonds of the said City in the aggregate sum of $20,000.00 dated the 1st day of August, 1960. Said bonds will be twenty in number and numbered from one to twenty, both inclusive. Each of said bonds will be of the denomination of $1,000.00 and will draw interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons to be attached to said bonds. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid or bids for said bonds based on their bearing a different rate of interest than that hereinabove specified, provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid such fraction shall be one quarter of one per cent or multiples thereof. Said bonds will be due and payable as follows:

Nos. 1 to 4 inclusive on the first day of December, 1962,
Nos. 5 to 8 inclusive on the first day of December, 1963,
Nos. 9 to 12 inclusive on the first day of December, 1964,
Nos. 13 to 16 inclusive on the first day of December, 1965,
Nos. 17 to 20 inclusive on the first day of December, 1966.

Said bonds are issued for the purpose of payment of maturing notes issued for the cost of purchasing land and construction thereon of off street parking facilities for motor vehicles as described in an ordinance entitled as set forth below and under authority of the laws of Ohio and the Uniform Bond Act and under and in accordance with a certain ordinance entitled "AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING NOTES ISSUED IN ANTICIPATION OF THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS TO PAY FOR THE PURCHASE OF AN OFF STREET PARKING LOT", passed on the 18th day of July, 1960.

Said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder for not less than the face value thereof and accrued interest.

All bids must state the number of bonds bid for and the gross amount of bid and accrued interest to date of delivery. All bids to be accompanied with a bond or certified check, payable to the City for $200.00 upon condition that if the bid is accepted the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds as may be issued as above set forth, within thirty days from the time of the award, said bond to be forfeited or said check to be retained by the City if said condition is not fulfilled.

Bids should be sealed and endorsed: "Bids for Parking Lot Bonds", July 27, 1960.

Curb Meter Survey Slated

A survey is scheduled to begin this week for deciding the number and location of parking meters for Wellsville, it was decided by Council and Mayor William Shoub Tuesday night.

Council ordered parking meters installed June 13 on a year's trial basis.

A committee seeking petitions for a referendum vote on the parking meters failed to obtain the necessary 290 names and was rejected earlier by Auditor E. S. Davidson.

The parking meter referendum was defeated twice previously by Wellsville residents.

The survey to decide how many meters will be purchased and the streets on which they will be installed will be decided Thursday or Friday by Micro Meter Co. of near Cincinnati and the Koontz Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh.

After receiving a report of the survey, Council is expected to begin advertising for bids for the parking meters. About 150 are expected to be installed but the number will depend on the results of the survey.

Insurance Aired For CD Members

About 18 attended a meeting of the 2nd and 5th Platoons of the 31st Mobile Support Group Tuesday night at the Glenmoor fire station.

William Lockhart reported on compensation for injuries, and said none would be paid unless members were in full uniform at the time of the mishap.

Clarence Ammon, captain requested all police members to aid at the Glenmoor firemen's fair, especially on Aug. 31 and Sept. 2. Members are to report at 6:30.

John Vervin, rescue team captain, asked team members to report to the Central Fire Station to clean the rescue truck Thursday night at 6:30.

The family basket picnic will be held Aug. 28 at 2 p. m. at Willow Grove Park at Lisbon. Dinner will be served at 4:30.

The next meeting will be Sept. 6.

As a theatrical district, Shaftesbury Ave. is to London what Broadway is to New York.
